Alleging that his life was threatened in an anonymous letter received a few days prior to the shooting, William Wolfe, 37, East End clay miner, recovering from self-inflicted wounds at the East Liverpool City hospital, Friday, declared he would fight the charge of first degree murder placed against him in connection with the killing of Mrs. Flora Dearth, Mulberry street restaurant keeper, on the night of October 3.

Jealousy, because of his purported infatuation, according to Wolfe, is believed to have prompted the threatening note which the wounded man claims is now in the hands of Patrolman Chester Smith.

He denied that Mrs. Dearth had been responsible for the sending of the note, but intimated that the anonymous letter had caused the murder and the attempted suicide.

Make Last-minute Drive for Two States; G. O. P. Confident.

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES.
NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Brushing aside and disregarding all the straw votes, polls and other pre-election pointers which so strongly indicate the election next Tuesday of Calvin Coolidge, the Democrats are making a tremendous eleventh hour bid for the electoral vote of New York and New Jersey. Given the 59 electoral votes that lie on either side of the Hudson river here, say the Democrats leaders directing this last-minute concentration, and they are willing to take their chances in the electoral college. That explains the seeming abandonment of the west by the Democrats in the last week of this unusual complex campaign.

Labor Unit Deserts La Follette
The Democrats are making undeniable progress in this final concentration. Whether they are making enough progress to overcome the admitted Republican lead in these two states until November 4 can reveal. The Republicans pooh pooh the idea and point derisively to every poll, every straw vote contest and every other barometer that indicates Coolidge is running about 2 to 1 in this territory.

But the Democrats are grimly certain.

IT'S COOLIDGE, DIGEST CLAIMS

President Coolidge seems certain to receive more than enough electoral votes to retain his office for another term on the basis of the final returns of the Literary Digest's non-partisan national poll which will appear in Saturday's issue of that periodical.

Of the grand total of 2,386,052 ballots recorded, Coolidge receives 1,345,033 votes, La Follette, 508,516, and Davis, 509,410. The balance of 24,093 votes are scattered among the other five regular candidates.

Wisconsin, casting 13 electoral votes, is the only State which accords Senator La Follette a plurality in The Digest poll. The states credited to Mr. Davis include Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Tennessee, Kentucky, Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Texas, representing a total electoral vote of 139.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—In the same breath with what John W. Davis announced today that Republicans were coming over to the Democratic fold in flocks, the Democratic presidential nominee appealed to those persons who intend to vote for Senator La Follette to get behind the Davis-Bryan ticket.

"I call to their attention," he said of the progressives in the fourth of a series of daily pre-election statements, "the hopelessness of their fight, I remind them that they are subtracting from the great force opposed to the Coolidge administration."

To those La Follette supporters who prefer revolution to remedy, Davis said, he had nothing to say.

"The great majority, however," the nominee added, "who are undoubtedly sincere were led to believe that the surest way to defeat Coolidge was to vote for La Follette."

COLUMBUS, Oct. 31.—Gov. Vio Donahey today again refused to order state troops to Niles, Ohio, where the Ku Klux Klan is planning a parade for tomorrow night. The governor's refusal today was in reply to a telegram received this morning from Sheriff J. E. Thomas at Leavittsburg, Ohio.

"Have done utmost to get control of situation," Sheriff Thomas wired, "but feel it will be impossible for me to meet it. Will you kindly send military aid not later than Friday p. m."

NILES, O., Oct. 31.—The Ku Klux Klan parade, in which 25,000 Klansmen of Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia are expected to march tomorrow afternoon, will be held as scheduled, Mayor Harvey C. The decision was reached shortly before noon, when the Mayor definitely announced that he would not heed the petition presented to him by representatives of a mass meeting held last night, which was attended by about 500 citizens, who stated they feared disorder would follow the holding of a parade.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 31.—Dr. B. A. Hart, Warren dentist, and head of the Ku Klux Klan in Trumbull county, announced today that the Klan parade scheduled for tomorrow will not be called off. Hart added he had the promise of Mayor Kistler of Niles that the permit already granted will not be revoked.

SCORES HIT "SAWDUST TRAIL" AT TABERNACLE AFTER DR. W. E. BIEDERWOLF PIVOTS HIS ATTACK ON "BACKSLIDERS" OF CHURCH IN SERMON

BY T. T. JONES.

Pivoting his attack on "backsliders," that element of the church which maintains a membership in it though failing to keep the vows agreed to upon entering its domain, Dr. W. E. Biederwolf demonstrated in no uncertain manner the futility and reprehensibility of such a course to a concouring audience at the Second and Washington streets tabernacle Thursday night.

Moved by the belief that a new and deeper consecration was necessary in their Christian allegiance. Scores of men and women of local churches, accordingly clogged the aisles in a forward move to sign cards to the effect, shake the evangelist's hand and engage in prayer.

Others, without the fold, impressed by the need for a changed life, likewise took the step. At the service's close many names to be given various pastors of the city were turned over to Rev. W. H. Stokes, who is in charge of the personal work of the campaign.

Cites Reasons for Backsliding

Declaring the most infamous sin possible to mankind to be that of a vow taken when alliance is made with any organization Dr. Biederwolf affirmed that church backsliding was due to a failure to read the Bible, the neglect of prayer, the lack of church attendance, Sabbath desecration, the refusal to carry memberships to places of removals and to evil companionship.

"All these contributing causes in the end causes you to lose your own self respect, that of others for you and finally," he said, "your own hope of the future."

"There is no such thing as a conscientious, consecrated theatre-going, dancing, card playing Christian," he averred. "They don't mix."

"There are 6,500 co-operating church members in this campaign. Where are they tonight?" he asked. "I would rather shake hands with a pious skeptic than with a church attending hypocrite. When one trifles with convictions and conscience, backsliding always in due time occurs."

Pathos, mingled with joy in the memory of those who had gone on and coupled with the pleasure of seeing hundreds present, some old, invalid and infirm, others matronly in their middle life, and many sparkling with the vigor and vivacity of youth, characterized the mother's meeting at the tabernacle on Thursday afternoon.

From every section of the city they came, the older ones escorted by relatives and friends and the younger set contributing a touch of buoyancy to what might have been otherwise a sombre scene.

Platform Garden of Beauty.

Transformed for the occasion was the tabernacle in anticipation of the afternoon guests. The platform had been made a veritable garden of beauty. Flowers of every hue and description which the fall season affords had been arranged throughout its expanse.

Potted palms in numbers served as a background to the numerous baskets of variegated bouquets, resting in inviting baskets that were laid the entire length of the long railing, between which at regular intervals small flags had been attached, the whole making a compelling and inviting combination.

Steps leading to the platform were likewise filled as were many of the front seats at the side entrances.

Above, suspended before the speaker's rostrum, was the word "Mother."

According to touch of color thus obtained were in contrast the white-carbed members of the Mother's Day committee which, 25 strong, acted as ushers and in other capacities fitted here and there throughout the big audience to complete and carry out the details incident to the event.

Into this restful and appealing temporary zone were taken the more aged and inactive of the visiting mothers and deposited from numerous automobiles that brought them to the tabernacle to the provided rocking and invalid chairs that from various sources had been donated. Between the platform and the front row of seats many thus sat. The center aisles likewise afforded nooks for vantage places from which they beheld with ease, those who could do so, at all, the athletic form of the towering evangelist about them and heard, with what distinctness they could, the songs that were sung.

Sing Old Songs.

Gala was the day for all and, despite their years, the aged, doing a fare back when fashion was perhaps one of their keenest tendencies, had arrayed themselves becomingly, with here and there a touch of jewelry as brooch or necklace came to view in and about the black all affected.

And they sang the old songs, hymns of their youth, which none in many instances save themselves knew how to pitch. Gently pressed by Dr. Biederwolf and aided by the ever ready Mr. McEwan they haltingly did so, their cracked voices giving the clue that enabled all finally to join them.

"Amazing Grace," pitched by a grey haired man; "The Lord is My Shepherd," started by one of the oldest women present; "Beulah Land," suggested by a matron whom Dr. Biederwolf thought too young to do so (only the grey-haired persons having the right) and who, roffing her bonnet, instantly qualified for the singing of the song; "There is a Fountain Filled With Blood," suggested by one who opined in doing so, "Yes, We Are Willing to Trust to the Blood," and "There is a Spot Too Me More Dear" by another, who explained "you will have to sing that whole piece to get the good of it." "Palms of Victory" and "How Tedious the Hour" were also sung.

Tears Course Checks.

Tears coursed the cheeks of many throughout the audience as the aged, their hands trembling, their voices weak and their eyes lighted by halcyon remembrances of the past and unfaltering faith in the future, chimed in on all the suggested songs of yesterday. "Deep on their fronts deliberation sat and care."

"Where did you all come from?" asked Dr. Biederwolf. And, answering, was disclosed the fact that in attendance were mothers born in seven different countries; Canada, England, Ireland, Wales, Scotland, Germany and Switzerland and from 18 States of the Union.

"And who is the here," inquired the evangelist. Mrs. J. B. Croft, of Vine street, 86 and one half years old, qualified in this respect and was presented with a bouquet of flowers by Miss Wilma E. Davis, woman worker of the evangelistic party.

Mrs. Croft, a member of the First Presbyterian church, it developed, is the mother of two ministers. Two others were 84 years old, while many Wolfe, who is shackled to his cot at the hospital to prevent his escape until such a time that he can be removed to the county jail, claims that he came to East Liverpool about four years ago from Pomeroy, Ohio, to accept a job as a miner for the American Vitified Products company, East End sewer pipe manufacturers.

"Before coming to East Liverpool I was appointed a special police officer by the chief of police at Pomeroy, Ohio, and given a written permit to carry a gun," declared Wolfe.

As Mr. Coolidge will not start speaking until 10 o'clock, Eastern Standard time, his address will mark the official end of the campaign.

The radio talk will be non-partisan, the president devoting himself entirely to urging all citizens to go to the polls the following day to cast their ballots in the presidential and state elections.

Pivoting his attack on "backsliders," that element of the church which maintains a membership in it though failing to keep the vows agreed to upon entering its domain, Dr. W. E. Biederwolf demonstrated in no uncertain manner the futility and reprehensibility of such a course to a concourse of audience at the Second and Washington streets tabernacle Thursday night.

Moved by the belief that a new and deeper consecration was necessary in their Christian allegiance, scores of men and women of local churches, accordingly crowded the aisles in a forward move to sign cards to effect, shake the evangelist's hand and engage in prayer.

Others, without the fold, impressed by the need for a changed life, likewise took the step. At the service's close many names to be given various pastors of the city were turned over to Rev. W. H. Stokes, who is in charge of the personal work of the campaign.

Cites Reasons for Backsliding
Declaring the most infamous sin possible to mankind to be that of a vow taken when alliance is made with any organization Dr. Biederwolf affirmed that church backsliding was due to a failure to read the Bible, attendance, Sabbath desecration, the refusal to carry memberships to places of removals and to evil companionship.

"All these contributing causes in the end causes you to lose your own self respect, that of others for you and finally," he said, "your own hope of the future."

"There is no such thing as a conscientious, consecrated theatre-going, dancing, card playing Christian," he averred. "They don't mix."

"There are 6,500 co-operating church members in this campaign. Where are they tonight?" he asked. "I would rather shake hands with a plous skeptic than with a church attending hypocrite. When one trifles with convictions and conscience, backsliding always in due time occurs."

Pathos, mingled with joy in the memory of those who had gone on and coupled with the pleasure of seeing hundreds present, some old, invalid and infirm, others matronly in their middle life and many sparkling with the vigor and vivacity of youth, characterized the mother's meeting at the tabernacle on Thursday afternoon.

From every section of the city they came, the older ones escorted by relatives and friends and the younger set contributing a touch of buoyancy to what might have been otherwise a sombre scene.

Platform Garden of Beauty.
Transformed for the occasion was the tabernacle in anticipation of the afternoon guests. The platform had been made a veritable garden of beauty. Flowers of every hue and description which the fall season affords had been arranged throughout its expanse.

Potted palms in numbers served as a background to the numerous baskets of variegated bouquets, resting in inviting baskets that were laid the entire length of the long railing, between which at regular intervals small flags had been attached, the whole making a compelling and inviting combination.

Steps leading to the platform were likewise filled as were many of the front seats at the side entrances. Above, suspended before the speaker's rostrum, was the word "Mother."

According to touch of color thus obtained were in contrast the white garbed members of the Mother's Day ushers and in other capacities flitted here and there throughout the big audience to complete and carry out the details incident to the event.

Into this restful and appealing temporary zone were taken the more aged and inactive of the visiting mothers and deposited from numerous automobiles that brought them to the tabernacle to the provided rocking and invalid chairs that from various sources had been donated. Between the platform and the front row of seats many thus sat. The center aisles likewise afforded nooks for vantage places from which they beheld with ease, those who could do so, at the athletic form of the towering evangelist about them and heard, with what distinctness they could, the songs that were sung.

Sing Old Songs.
Gala was the day for all and, despite their years, the aged, doing a fare back when fashion was perhaps one of their keener tendencies, had arrayed themselves becomingly, with here and there a touch of jewelry as brooch or necklace came to view in and about the black all affected.

And they sang the old songs, hymns of their youth, which none in many instances save themselves knew how to pitch. Gently pressed by Dr. Biederwolf and aided by the ever ready Mr. McKean they haltingly did so, their cracked voices giving the clue that enabled all finally to join them.

"Amazing Grace," pitched by a grey haired man; "The Lord is My Shepherd," started by one of the oldest women present; "Blessed Land," suggested by a matron whom Dr. Biederwolf thought too young to do so (only the grey-haired persons having the right) and who, roffing her bonnet, instantly qualified for the singing of the song; "There is a Fountain Filled With Blood," suggested by one who opined in doing so, "Yes, We Are Willing to Trust to the Blood," and "There is a Spot Too Me More Dear" by another, who explained "you will have to sing that whole piece to get the good of it." "Palms of Victory" and "How Tedious the Hour" were also sung.

Tears Course Cheeks.
Tears coursed the cheeks of many throughout the audience as the aged, their hands trembling, their voices weak and their eyes lighted by halcyon remembrances of the past and unfaltering faith in the future, chimed in on all the suggested songs of yesterday. "Deep on their fronts deliberation sat and care."

"Where did you all come from?" asked Dr. Biederwolf. And, answering, was disclosed the fact that in attendance were mothers born in seven different countries; Canada, England, Ireland, Wales, Scotland, Germany and Switzerland and from 18 States of the Union.

"And who is she here," inquired the evangelist. Mrs. J. B. Croft, of Vine street, 86 and one half years old, qualified in this respect and was presented with a bouquet of flowers by Miss Wilma E. Davis, woman worker of the evangelistic party.

Mrs. Croft, a member of the First Presbyterian church, it developed, is the mother of two ministers. Two others were 84 years old, while many

MELLON URGES PEOPLE TO USE 'IRON DOLLARS'

Treasury Secretary Says Plan Permits Big Saving.

CITES FIGURES

Silver Circulation Would Permit Paper Money Reserve.

WASHINGTON—If the life of every dollar bill circulated in the United States can be prolonged two months, the government will annually save $1,566,000, according to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

"During the last three years an unprecedented demand has developed for paper currency of the smaller denominations," Mellon explained.

"This is particularly true of one-dollar notes, which are being used in increasingly large numbers. In order to supply the demand and meet the requirements of unit and mutilated dollar bills, it is necessary to print and put into circulation 48,000,000 of these bills monthly.

"A note which is thus rushed through the process of manufacture becomes unfit for circulation within seven or eight months of issue, whereas notes which have been given a reasonable period of seasoning will continue in circulation from ten to eleven months."

Mellon said that bankers are constantly complaining of the poor quality of the paper money. The treasury intends to build up a reserve supply of currency sufficiently large to keep a portion in the process of seasoning.

A dollar bill costs .017 cents to manufacture and keep in circulation. The treasury hopes to prolong the life of every dollar bill by two months at least in order to make the $1,566,000 savings.

Mellon declared that the building up of an adequate currency reserve will take time. "One way to facilitate the operation is to increase the number of silver dollars in circulation," he said. "This the treasury hopes to do. The number of silver dollars in use today is far below normal. During the war congress passed the Pittman act, authorizing the treasury to melt standard silver dollars and sell them to the British government in India. The greater portion of the silver thus sold was represented in currency circulation by silver certificates, which were withdrawn from circulation. In addition to this decrease in the circulating medium, the number of silver dollars in current use has dropped from 84,000,000 in 1919 to 54,000,000 July 1, 1924.

"When silver again became available for purchase, the treasury was required by law to buy silver and coin new silver dollars to replace those sold.

"If the treasury can restore to circulation $30,000,000 in the continental United States and $10,000,000 in our insular possessions, we can displace equal amounts of paper currency and effect an annual saving on this item alone of $28,000, which is equivalent to the interest at 4 percent on $21,000,000 of the public debt.

"The use of the silver dollar is not an innovation. It has merely lost its place temporarily in the circulation of certain localities; and all that is proposed is to restore a very limited amount of these coins as auxiliary to the paper currency.

"If we are to succeed in this plan we must have the co-operation of the banks. It is necessary that the banks, through their cashiers and paying tellers, explain to their customers the government's reasons for wanting every one to take at least one or two silver dollars with their paper currency.

"Silver dollars cannot be forced upon an unwilling public. If a proper appeal is made, however, and the appeal is backed by logic and reason, the American public can be counted upon to co-operate with the government."

A Ceaseless, Brilliant, Wonderful Flow of New Things At Ogilvie's

Handshaking

Great shakes; Something of a stir recently, wasn't it, about this matter of expecting the president of the United States to shake hands at any and all times with any and all comers? No need to get worked up over it—no matter how warm his heart may be, no American president would ever get his work done if he attempted to shake hands with his thousands of visitors. It's much the same way here—and in any place where there is work to do. But we want everyone who steps within our doors to feel our welcome as personal, just as if there were a handclasp at the entrance.

Mothers who are familiar with Kaynee blouses and shirts know that they are the best obtainable. There's nothing nicer than Kaynee blouses. If you want your boy to look neat and trim this winter choose his blouses here.

Their cut is smart and comfortable; the tailoring is exceptional; the fabrics themselves are of a quality that is not usual in boys blouses. Every fabric is guaranteed fast color. A special loop holds the blouses in place at the waist. Older boys are most particular about the patterns, the cut and tailoring of their shirts. The styles of Kaynee shirts are the same as found in the most correct men's shirts.

CALL MEETING FOR SATURDAY

Power Co. and City Will Discuss Lighting Problem.

Wellsville city officers will confer with legal counsel and representatives of the Ohio Power Co. on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the council chamber of the city hall here for the purpose of threshing out the municipal lighting problem with the expectation of reaching some kind of solution before they quit.

This was the announcement made by city officials here Friday. The conference originally was scheduled for Thursday night but as a result of the inability of several members to attend, was postponed until Saturday.

City Solicitor George D. Ingram and other municipal heads are confident that the Saturday conference will produce plans which will provide for the continuance of street lights, in some form or other, although no definite program has been outlined publicly up until the present time for meeting the $11,000 bill held by the power company against the city.

Attorney W. H. Vodey and Manager Couch of the Ohio Power Co., Councilmen C. C. Ewing, William Nicholson and Charles Peters, City Solicitor George D. Ingram, and possibly Mayor James S. Barnes will be members of the conference.

Main street merchants will pay for their street lights, it was understood, if it is found necessary to do so. Approximately 30 business houses are ready to make pro rata contributions to keep the white way system in operation in the business section if no agreement is reached by the conference, and the power company is forced to turn off the electricity.

WEBSTER PRIMES FOR SERIES TILT

If the Wellsville Webster Billiards are able to muster the squad of stars with whom Manager Webster is said to be negotiating, the second inter-city series clash with the East Liverpool Greys Saturday afternoon at Patterson field, East Liverpool, will be a red hot affair from start to finish.

The names of ex-college gridiron stars, local talent and members of the Toronto Tigers are included in the tentative lineup which Manager Webster is trying to round up for the crucial engagement.

According to Webster, Cletus Patterson, former Ohio University football leader, will be stationed at left tackle. On his left will be Earl Mundy, Toronto Tiger end, while the position on his right is undecided. Anthony of this city will be at center, with McRoberts, Toronto Tigers' center, playing right guard. "Fat" Wheatley of Niles, who plays the backfield and the line on various occasions, will hold down right tackle with Rosenberg, one of the original members of the Billiards, at right end. Dunlap, ex-Marietta college griddler, will call the signals, according to advance information given out by Manager Webster, with Zoeckler and Dill on the halves and Comer, of the Toronto Tigers, at fullback.

This lineup was submitted by Manager Webster to Manager Cochran, of the Greys, Thursday night. There is no question but that the Websters are out for an even break with the Greys and will spare no efforts in their attempts to muster strength enough to land the second title series clash, the first of which went to the Greys at Central park several weeks ago by the score of 13-0. Saturday's game will start at 3:30 o'clock.

MRS. MORGAN, 86, IS DEAD HERE

Mrs. Lavina Morgan, 86 years old, resident of this city for the past five years, died on Thursday night at 10:10 o'clock at the home of her brother-in-law, A. C. Morgan, at 1930 Anderson avenue. She suffered a stroke on Wednesday night.

She is survived only by a brother, Sylvester Henthorne, of Cameron, O., although she spent a large portion of her life in East Liverpool, she had been residing at the Morgan home here since the death of her husband, James Morgan.

Funeral services will be held at the home on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in charge of Rev. Thomas B. Shearer, pastor of the First Christian church. Burial will be made in Spring Hill cemetery.

HIGHS TO CLASH WITH LEETONIA

Having recovered from the effects of their 41 to 6 drubbing at the hands of Bellaire scholastic eleven last week, Coach Carl Zimmerman's griders are getting set for their battle Saturday afternoon at Central park with the Leetonia team, one of the leading contenders for Columbiana county scholastic championship honors. The game is scheduled to begin at 3:15.

An easier game might have worked to the advantage of the Orange and Black for this date, coming as it does between the Bellaire game and the clash on the following week with Mingo Junction. Any one of the three teams are worthy of no small consideration when gridiron honors are passed out.

The Leetonia outfit very effectively quelled Lisbon, which, however, is being done consistently by other eleven on the county seat team's schedule, and merely goes to show that the Leetonians do possess a strong scoring attack. But their 7 to 6 victory over Salem deserves thought, in view of the fact that the victory was registered on the Quakers' own grounds where the Salemites are always stronger than on the road.

Will Answer Court Petition. Another chapter has been written in the $35,000 alienation case filed in common pleas court by Herbert Lee, of East Liverpool, against John Fultz.

Attorney W. A. O'Grady has gone before Judge James G. Moore of common pleas court and has been granted leave to file an answer in this case on or before November 15.

In this answer the defendant will set up his defense to the original petition.

ARMISTICE DAY PLANS PROGRESS

Arrangements for the Armistice day observance to be held here under auspices of Corporal Dan D. Duty post No. 130, Veterans of Foreign Wars, are rapidly nearing completion, according to announcement Friday by officers of the organization.

According to plans, a parade will be held in the morning at 11 o'clock. The afternoon feature will be a football game between the Webster Billiards and the Salineville Nash Motors. The program will culminate with a fireworks display at Central park in the evening.

Ladies of Elks Entertain. Ladies of the Elks entertained Thursday evening in the lodge home in Riverside avenue. Mrs. Otto Dushman, the hostess, was assisted by Miss Helen Statters. Five hundred was the chief diversion. Luncheon was served.

Episcopal Church Services. Special services will be held on Sunday in the Church of the Ascension here, according to announcement by Rev. F. C. Roberts, rector. Church school will convene at 9:45 a. m. Holy communion services will be held at 11 o'clock. Rev. Roberts will preach.

50,000 Enrolled In Laymen's Unit Of Lutheran Church

CHICAGO, Oct. 31. — Strenuous efforts are being made by the Lutheran church in America to bring every man who is a member of that church into the Lutheran Brotherhood—its laymen's organization. Up to the present time the church has enrolled 50,000 of its men in more than 1,100 local organizations and is conducting a constant drive to induce every layman in the church to join the Brotherhood.

The results of this campaign were announced to the United Lutheran church in America at its biennial convention here today by its committee on Lutheran Brotherhood. It was pointed out by the committee that the laymen so organized impart to the church work business experience and financial knowledge needed to put it upon a sound financial basis of efficiency.

In numerous instances the Lutheran Brotherhood has put over campaigns for raising funds for Lutheran institutions which might otherwise have languished. To enable laymen to do this work, the committee advocates continuance of the dues system despite the fact that it has been criticized in some quarters.

Power Co. and City Will Discuss Lighting Problem.

Wellsville city officers will confer with legal counsel and representatives of the Ohio Power Co. on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the council chamber of the city hall here for the purpose of threshing out the municipal lighting problem with the expectation of reaching some kind of solution before they quit.

This was the announcement made by city officials here Friday. The conference originally was scheduled for Thursday night but as a result of the inability of several members to attend, was postponed until Saturday.

City Solicitor George D. Ingram and other municipal heads are confident that the Saturday conference will produce plans which will provide for the continuance of street lights, in some form or other, although no definite program has been outlined publicly up until the present time for meeting the $11,000 bill held by the power company against the city.

Attorney W. H. Vodrey and Manager Couch of the Ohio Power Co., Councilmen C. C. Ewing, William Nicholson and Charles Peters, City Solicitor George D. Ingram, and possibly Mayor James S. Barnes will be members of the conference.

Main street merchants will pay for their street lights, it was understood, if it is found necessary to do so. Approximately 30 business houses are ready to make pro rata contributions to keep the white way system in operation in the business section if no agreement is reached by the conference, and the power company is forced to turn off the electricity.

WEBSTER PRIMES FOR SERIES TILT

If the Wellsville Webster Billiards are able to muster the squad of stars with whom Manager Webster is said to be negotiating, the second inter-city series clash with the East Liverpool Greys Saturday afternoon at Patterson field, East Liverpool, will be a red hot affair from start to finish.

The names of ex-college gridiron stars, local talent and members of the Toronto Tigers are included in the tentative lineup which Manager Webster is trying to round up for the crucial engagement.

According to Webster, Cletus Patterson, former Ohio University football leader, will be stationed at left tackle. On his left will be Earl Mundy, Toronto Tiger end, while the position on his right is undecided. Anthony of this city will be at center, with McRoberts, Toronto Tigers' center, playing right guard. "Fat" Wheatley of Niles, who plays the backfield and the line on various occasions, will hold down right tackle with Rosenberg, one of the original members of the Billiards, at right end. Dunlap, ex-Marietta college griddler, will call the signals, according to advance information given out by Manager Webster, with Zwickler and Dill on the halves and Comer, of the Toronto Tigers, at fullback.

This lineup was submitted by Manager Webster to Manager Cochran, of the Greys, Thursday night.

There is no question but that the Websters are out for an even break with the Greys and will spare no efforts in their attempts to muster strength enough to land the second title series clash, the first of which went to the Greys at Central park several weeks ago by the score of 13-0. Saturday's game will start at 3:30 o'clock.

MRS. MORGAN, 86, IS DEAD HERE

Mrs. Lavina Morgan, 86 years old, resident of this city for the past five years, died on Thursday night at 10:10 o'clock at the home of her brother-in-law, A. C. Morgan, at 1030 Anderson avenue. She suffered a stroke on Wednesday night.

She is survived only by a brother, Sylvester Henthorne, of Cameron, O. Although she spent a large portion of her life in East Liverpool, she had been residing at the Morgan home here since the death of her husband, James Morgan.

Funeral services will be held at the home on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in charge of Rev. Thomas B. Shearer, pastor of the First Christian church. Burial will be made in Spring Hill cemetery.

HIGHS TO CLASH WITH LEETONIA

Having recovered from the effects of their 41 to 6 drubbing at the hands of Bellaire scholastic eleven last week, Coach Carl Zimmerman's griders are getting set for their battle Saturday afternoon at Central park with the Leetonia team, one of the leading contenders for Columbiana county scholastic championship honors. The game is scheduled to begin at 3:15.

An easier game might have worked to the advantage of the Orange and Black for this date, coming as it does between the Bellaire game and the clash on the following week with Mingo Junction. Any one of the three teams are worthy of no small consideration when gridiron honors are passed out.

The Leetonia outfit very effectively quelled Lisbon, which, however, is being done consistently by other eleven on the county seat team's schedule, and merely goes to show that the Leetonians do possess a strong scoring attack. But their 7 to 6 victory over Salem deserves thought, in view of the fact that the victory was registered on the Quakers' own grounds where the Salemites are always stronger than on the road.

Will Answer Court Petition.

Another chapter has been written in the $35,000 alienation case filed in common pleas court by Herbert Lee, of East Liverpool, against John Fultz.

Attorney W. A. O'Grady has gone before Judge James G. Moore of common pleas court and has been granted leave to file an answer in this case on or before November 15.

In this answer the defendant will set up his defense to the original petition.

ARMISTICE DAY PLANS PROGRESS

Arrangements for the Armistice day observance to be held here under auspices of Corporal Dan D. Duty post No. 150, Veterans of Foreign Wars, are rapidly nearing completion, according to announcement Friday by officers of the organization.

According to plans, a parade will be held in the morning at 11 o'clock. The afternoon feature will be a football game between the Webster Billiards and the Salineville Nash Motors. The program will culminate with a fireworks display at Central park in the evening.

Ladies of Elks Entertain.

Ladies of the Elks entertained Thursday evening in the lodge home in Riverside avenue. Mrs. Otto Dushman, the hostess, was assisted by Miss Helen Stattes. Five hundred was the chief diversion. Luncheon was served.

Episcopal Church Services. Special services will be held on Sunday in the Church of the Ascension here, according to announcement by Rev. F. C. Roberts, rector. Church school will convene at 9:45 a. m. Holy communion services will be held at 11 o'clock. Rev. Roberts will preach.

50,000 Enrolled In Laymen's Unit Of Lutheran Church

CHICAGO, Oct. 31. — Strenuous efforts are being made by the Lutheran church in America to bring every man who is a member of that church into the Lutheran Brotherhood—its laymen's organization. Up to the present time the church has enrolled 50,000 of its men in more than 1,100 local organizations and is conducting a constant drive to induce every layman in the church to join the Brotherhood.

The results of this campaign were announced to the United Lutheran church in America at its biennial convention here today by its committee on Lutheran Brotherhood. It was pointed out by the committee that the laymen so organized impart to the church work business experience and financial knowledge needed to put it upon a sound financial basis of efficiency.

In numerous instances the Lutheran Brotherhood has put over campaigns for raising funds for Lutheran institutions which might otherwise have languished. To enable laymen to do this work, the committee advocates continuance of the dues system despite the fact that it has been criticized in some quarters.

Cornmeal or Wheat Cakes—One cup white flour, one cup cornmeal, buckwheat or whole wheat, two teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon soda, one and one-half cups sour milk, one or two eggs. One cup bread crumbs squeezed dry from cold water may be used in place of cornmeal or whole wheat flour if wished. Serve with syrup.

Fried Squash—Two young crook-neck squash, one-half cup milk, one tablespoon salt, one egg, two tablespoons flour, four tablespoons bacon fat. Boil the squash about 15 minutes—until a fork pierces easily to the center. Drain, and if the skin is too old to be eaten hold the squash with a fork in the left hand and remove the skin with a paring knife. Cut in one-half inch slices and dip in the batter made by mixing the flour, salt, egg and milk together in the order mentioned. Brown on both sides in the hot bacon and serve immediately.

Stuffed Spanish Onions—Boil three Spanish onions for about 20 minutes,

"Overweight is not due to bread-eating, but to over amounts of sugar, starch and fats and lack of exercise," says Mrs. Ida Bailey Allen, New York dietitian. "A small amount of starch is needed in every reducing diet. Bread is the best food for this purpose. All other starches and all sweets should be eliminated from the diet. Plenty of bread, sliced paper thin and dried out until crisp in over—with clear, hot tea for breakfast and luncheon, and everything one wants for dinner is the best reducing diet I know. Be sure to keep moving for 20 minutes after dinner." She explains the reason for drying the bread thus: "It is concentrated by the drying out process and the body is supplied with the necessary protein and fat as well as starch for energy and oxidation."

then remove the hearts, leaving the outside cases for a filling. Make a stuffing of bread crumbs mixed with the chopped centers of the onions, salt and pepper to taste, and two tablespoons of tomato sauce or two green peppers chopped. Sprinkle with three tablespoons of melted butter, set the pan in water, and bake for half an hour. The baking dish should be covered until the last five minutes, and the onions should be allowed to get dry. More butter can be added or a little hot water if they cook dry. Serve on a platter, garnish with sprigs of parsley.

SUGGESTIONS

Did you ever try keeping your buttons in a bottle? One housewife writes that she likes a bottle best of all to keep her buttons in. Glass vials with either screw tops or corks are best. You often get them from the drug store. You can see through the glass just what size button is there. They can also be used for snap fasteners and hooks and eyes.

Sweet Crab Apple Pickle—Wipe three pounds crab apples, remove stems and steam until soft. Tie in muslin bag, one and one-half teaspoons cloves, one and one-half teaspoons allspice berries, one and one-half teaspoons pepper corns, one and one-half teaspoons ginger, put in preserving kettle, add two cups cider vinegar, one cup sugar and the crab apples. Bring gradually to boiling point and let simmer 20 minutes.

Mango Pickles—(Stuffed Green Peppers.) One head cabbage, two tablespoons sugar, two tablespoons white mustard seed, one tablespoon celery salt, one tablespoon salt, four onions, one teaspoon ground cinnamon, one-half teaspoon ground cloves, one-half teaspoon ground pepper, eight large green peppers, two large red peppers, two tablespoons grated horseradish. Wash and wipe dry the red and green peppers, cut the latter in halves lengthwise, remove seeds and keep the two halves of each pepper together. Chop fine the red peppers, onions and cabbage; add salt, sugar and spices; mix thoroughly. Fill the green peppers with mixture; fit the two halves together and tie securely with a clean white cord. Place the stuffed peppers in a crock or glass jars and cover with cider vinegar to which has been added three or four hot Italian red peppers and one clove of garlic. Cover jars and keep in a cool place.

Bond Issue For New County Jail

One of the five ballots to be handed East Liverpool electors when they go to the polls next Tuesday to exercise their duty as citizens will be a small one on which appears a proposition for the issue of bonds to erect a new county jail.

The Columbiana county voters are asked to sanction a proposal to expend $100,000 for this purpose.

At least two or three times, a similar proposal, in which $200,000 was the amount sought, has been defeated.

The county commissioners, under instructions from the state authorities to improve the present structure, urge approval of the bond issue.

State inspectors as well as grand juries have condemned the building, declaring it is unfit for habitation.

Vote in favor of the proposal.

A Mob Punished

Last July a small mob at Myersville, Md., satisfied its sense of justice and social service—mixed more or less with vindictiveness and a spirit of adventure—by tarring and feathering a West Virginia girl. It was a glorious victory for morality, perhaps. But the victors are now vanquished by the stronger hand of ordered justice, as administered by the courts.

The circuit court in Frederick has sent nearly all of the offenders to jail, for varying terms. There are 11 men and one woman in the batch of prisoners. The woman, who is credited with having led the "tar party" and administered the tar, gets nine months.

That woman may have had a genuine personal grievance against the victim. The men who supported her punitive efforts may have been actuated by strong moral indignation. But in the eyes of the law, as in the eyes of all intelligent and law-abiding citizens, the way they chose to convince an alleged malefactor of the error of her ways was the wrong way.

Mob punishment is nearly always crude and cruel. Nothing demands more soberness and intelligence than the administration of justice. It is for this reason that society has organized special machinery of justice, represented by the courts.

Courts deal with the more flagrant kinds of wrong-doing. Minor kinds can be dealt with by moral suasion, outside the domain of the law. Mobs are always confusing the two, and treating misdemeanors, real or imaginary, as if they were crimes. It is well to teach mobs as that in Maryland that its own acts constitute a crime, and punish them accordingly.

Spindle and Distaff

Business, to the ordinary citizen who makes no claim to being a financial expert, seems in a queer state. It is better than usual for the middle of October in a presidential year. Not only do many agencies trained to observe such things say that the depression has past, but the ordinary business man can see in a small way in his own affairs that sales and collections are just a little bit better than they were a few months ago. Yet nothing moves much.

Everybody says it is foolish to await the election result before going forward, yet everybody waits just the same. The engine has started again after stalling, but the car hasn't yet picked up enough speed to justify changing the gear into high.

For just such periods as these, a most old-fashioned proverb has a useful ring. "Get thy spindle and distaff ready, and God will send the flax."

Idle waiting is bad. It gets nowhere for the present, and leaves one flabby and temporarily incapacitated when the tide does turn. But busy waiting brings real results. There is not a business in the land, from that of the biggest corporation to that of the humblest housewife, in which a little redding up and clearing out and quiet planning and preparing will not help right now. If these last weeks and days are used to their full capacity, then when the election is decided, everyone and everything will be ready to jump forward.

TODAY

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.)

ENGLAND HATES SLAVERY

Give England credit for one thing, freedom from slavery goes with the British flag. Wilberforce and other Britishers made the first effective protest against slavery.

And where the English have gone they have fought slavery everywhere. In India they stopped marriages of girls, eight, nine and ten years old and the burning alive of widows—considerably worse than slavery.

Now in Hong Kong, a British colony, a law will prevent Chinese families buying children to be used as slave girls.

As usual the difficulty is with the slaves themselves. They prefer slavery in rich families to hard life at home.

In a similar way some of our dear, clinging vine ladies in the United States protested against female suffrage. They didn't want to have to use little brains, preferring to let "my husband" do it.

WHAT'S THIS

One very capitalistic newspaper is horrified at the news that "La Follette party leads are lolling in luxury." And that isn't half of it. The money that pays for the "lolling" is supplied by Mrs. Willard D. Straight, widow of a J. Pierpont Morgan & Co. partner, and daughter of William C. Whitney, who got many millions out of street cars and politics.

Respectability is shocked to think that such respectable money should be contributed by an intelligent young woman to help La Follette.

That's what happens often, however.

From Galton's "Heredity" you learn that the daughter inherits the father's power more often than the son inherits it. The daughter of a rich man, instead of using her energies piling up more money, which would be foolish, often tries to do something real. Mrs. Straight is wise in her view that it is desirable to give new ideas a chance and even to let them "loll" if they want to.

A LITTLE COMFORT

Those "red, radical Bolsheviks" that General Dawes attacks so mercilessly will find some comfort in the publicity of income tax returns. They may shiver with horror at some of the big incomes revealed. They would shiver a good deal more if they knew the real size of the incomes before "legal deductions."

But it must comfort them to find that the big steel company, for instance, pays more than $15,000,000 income tax, the Southern Pacific railroad more than $5,000,000, etc. Even Jack Dempsey paid $30,000.

Publicity of income tax returns show that John W. Davis, Democratic candidate, paid $84,425.20. His enemies of the radical camp will gloat over that, and produce figures to show that Mr. Davis' prosperous clients must have paid him several hundred thousand dollars a year.

Mr. Davis will be able to reply, "At least I paid my income tax."

He knows, which the radical doesn't, that his entire legal income in a year is much less than individual feels paid to certain lawyers.

WORSE THAN A CRIME

An able lawyer, talking for the Pennsylvania railroad, says that great public service organization "has the right to attack La Follette on the bills of fare" distributed in dining cars.

A railroad may have the right, but if it uses that right you may say of that railroad, and incidentally of the man that defends the right, that it lacks intelligence. "It is worse than a crime—it is a blunder" as Talleyrand said.

A railroad and its managers are stupid if they deliberately stir up just cause for public indignation. And that's what they do when they insult any considerable number of voters of the candidate.

Some day, election will put into the White House a man dreadful as that sound—who would rather see the government control the railroads than the railroads controlling the government.

Railroad owners should remember that. They won't always run the national show.

A French lightning calculator, M. Inoué, beats all mechanical tabulating machines in subtracting, adding, dividing, extracting cube roots—dealing with figures running into billions and trillions. That doesn't hurt the value of calculating machines, which you can buy cheaply, whereas Mr. Inoué would cost you several hundred thousand dollars if he were for sale.

The tests show what an extraordinary thing the human brain is, even now, only 12,000 years from the Stone Age. What will it be five or fifty million years from now? It isn't predicting too much to say that human beings will be born, knowing at their birth a thousand times as much as anybody knows now, at the hour of death.

If a chicken is hatched knowing how to scratch, a fish knowing how to swim and a mud wasp understanding spinal surgery, why should not human beings be born with encyclopaedic brain? Only a matter of time and evolution.

WHO'S WHO

SIR THOMAS LIPTON.

Fifty-five years ago Thomas Johnstone Lipton staggered ashore in New York harbor black with coal dust and gasping for breath from the furnace room of a Charleston steamer. He had secreted himself on board in the English harbor as a stow-away, as he had not enough money to pay his passage. Discovered by the ship's crew he was forced to work his passage.

The other day Sir Thomas Lipton, many times a millionaire, the world's greatest tea merchant, knighted by king and crowned prince of sportsmen by the sporting world, stepped from his luxurious quarters in an ocean liner to the dock in New York and was received as befitted a popular hero.

Sir Thomas—the stowaway of 1869—had come to challenge America for the fifth time in an effort to lift the yachting cup, the most prized trophy in the yachting game for some 70 years.

His recent trip to New York was his sixtieth across the Atlantic to these shores. He is now 74. His smile is just as young, however, as it was 25 years ago.

Sir Thomas avers that, should he fail in his efforts to capture the cup on his fifth attempt the quest for it will be carried on under provisions in his will, which commissions the Royal Ulster Yacht club of Belfast, Ireland, to continue the challenge until the cup is lifted. Which shows that four futile races for the cup have not dulled his determination.

Sir Thomas was born in Glasgow, of Irish parents on May 10, 1850. He was made a baron in 1892 and six years later was knighted by the British king.

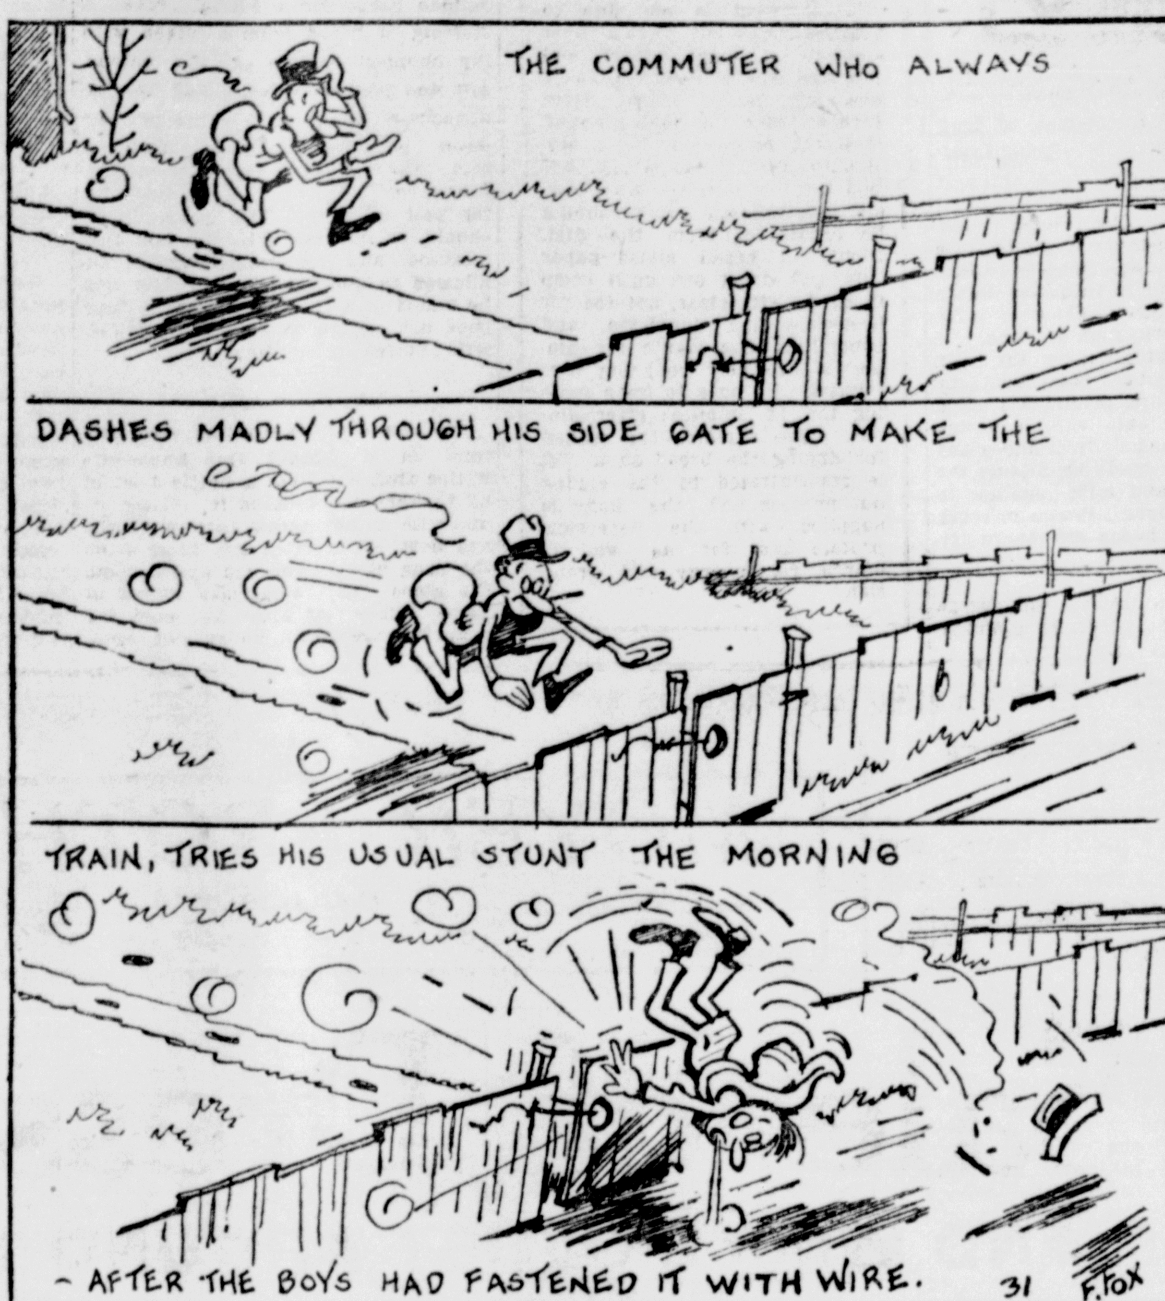

In addition to his tea interests he has vast rubber holdings. He is one of the world's most famous bachelors.

If there's only enough helium in the country for one airship, why not use political hot air?

SIR THOMAS LIPTON

Pathetic Figures—

NEWSY GOSSIP OF BIG CITIES

By HARRY R. FLORY.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—The future of London cabarets, which have sprung up and flourished like mushrooms, with the relaxation of entertainment regulations permitting dining and dancing to continue until 2 o'clock in the morning five nights of every week, is to be decided by the first of November.

On that date the old regulations, permitting entertainment of that character only until midnight, and drinking only until 11 p. m., are scheduled to go back in effect, unless the staid old members of the entertainment committee of the London county council change their minds.

Members of the Entertainments' Protective association are rallying to influence the county council body to continue the present arrangement, which originally was voted simply for the duration of the Wembley Empire exhibition. Having entertained the provincial visitors throughout the summer, the entertainers now contend that to attract foreign tourists London should dival Paris as a center of nocturnal gaiety.

Music hall proprietors, who are not allowed to serve "hard" liquors in their bars, are putting in a counter claim. They maintain that if midnight cabarets are allowed to compete with them in furnishing entertainment they should be allowed to compete with the cabarets in the serving of drinks.

One suggestion is that cabaret performances should be limited to a certain number of performers and that artists should be prohibited from appearing at both music hall and cabaret on the same night, thus adding to the sources of theatrical employment.

While most restaurants are catering to the jazz-loving public, there are others which are making special appeals to sedate, conservative individuals who resent the intrusion even of orchestral music into their dining hour.

The Saint James Palace hotel restaurant has evolved a "sound-proof anti-jazz" restaurant. Diners are assured absolute quiet. The soles of the waiters' shoes have been tested for the faintest suggestion of squeaks and thick carpet precludes the idea of a football being noticeable.

They are attempting to invent silent ice shakers and champagne corks which don't "pop."

Russian brandy from the imperial cellars of the late Czar Nicholas II, in Petrograd, is the latest liquid delicacy offered London consumers. Dozens of cases are being offered for sale in the West End at fabulous prices.

Police, believing the bottles and labels may have been faked and the brandy may be "green," are attempting to discover if this brandy was smuggled into the country.

George Washington suffered from bad teeth and adopted clumsy methods to remedy the defects, it is disclosed in a letter from the Father of His Country to a Dr. Barker, of Philadelphia, written on May 29, 1781.

The letter reads: "A day or two ago I requested Colonel Harrison to apply to you for a pair of pincers to fasten the wire of my teeth. I hope you furnished him with them. I now wish you would send me one of your scrapers, as my teeth stand in need of cleaning and I have little prospect of being in Philadelphia."

The letter is one of a collection of correspondence now owned by the Clinton family, all of which will be sold at auction in London soon. The correspondence was collected by the Hon. George Clinton, governor of New York from 1741 to 1751, and by Sir Henry Clinton, commander in chief of the English forces in America in 1778.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Thoughts while strolling around New York: An undertaking parlor advertises "A Gold Room." Jazz even to funerals. A famous perfumer in a gray silk suit. And pink tie. He would. Why will people eat watercress.

Cats foraging for sweet swill. That wins the great giant gooseberry—a girl wearing sandals and a fur neckpiece. Roy Carruthers, who guides the destinies of the Waldorf. Soon be time for bonfires. And walks through drifting autumn leaves.

No more Russian shows on Broadway. A little art center that swirls near Times Square. Oriental looking girls with hed lips. Pale young men with drooping cigarettes. And heads bobbed like medieval heralds.

And that famous little cafe where they serve stone bowls of bubbling onion soup. Swiss cheese on toasted buns. A tang to life here. But New York is too rushed to appreciate it. All the ladies are putting that brilliant red stain on their nails.

Who started that fad? A cafe called the Three Aces and another the Three Kings. French, Bohemian, Irish and American. A tipsy rowdy haranguing a cop. Girls in white breeches astride galloping horses. Or their way to the bridge path.

New shows in rehearsals. Fall dullness is dying. And there's a new sparkle to the town. A famous gambler from Tia Juana. Once a Forty-second street newsboy. And now owes a building there. The slumbering hills of New Jersey. And the brilliant ripple of the Hudson.

Avery Hopwood. And Berton Brails with his always too small hat. Tourists trying to take kodaks. A pawnshop without a sign—and a marble front. Youngsters trudging to school.

New York's Rialto is getting ready for another foreign invasion. Isprided by welcome of the Moscow art players, the Grand Guignol, Yiddish art theater, Eleonora Duse and Swedish ballets, Japan is sending its Imperial theater from Tokyo to Broadway. Jaded New Yorkers may get a thrill out of the classical Kabuki drama. It has been highly touted. Actors will be clad in the garments of old Japanese, strangely colored and painted in the manner of their ancestors. The sound of drums and the staccato cries of musicians punctuate the passion of the players and heighten the dramatic effect. Japan does not conceal its stage mechanics. Black cloaked stage hands creep about removing properties and placing for the K. K. drama begins in early childhood. The actor sometimes receives $5,000 a month. He in many ways represents the flowery kingdom's highest culture.

Ten magazine writers who left New York during the past five years to live in California have returned to become cliff dwellers again. All claim they tired of the monotony of sunshine. But the real truth is they were too far away from their editorial markets. Editors like to discuss stories with writers in personal talks.

A theatrical producer who pays notoriously poor salaries wired George M. Cohan recently: "Will you come with me next season, George?" "Why certainly, old man," Cohan replied. "Where are you going?"

A little dime museum has opened on Tenth avenue. It has a crystal maze and some interesting wax figure. Also a 10-cent vaudeville show. It is run by a former policeman and is doing a brisk business. Copyrighted, 1924, by the McNaught Syndicate, Inc.

Those who are indifferent regarding the importance of prompt attention to minor cuts and scratches are not informed regarding the danger that lies in inattention.

The prompt application of first aid to minor wounds requires neither skill nor the expenditure of money; just a few minutes of time, a little tending, a little gauze and a strip or two of adhesive tape.

SCHOOL FOR LUMBER USES

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 31.—Among his multitudinous activities in the public interest Uncle Sam conducts a school for the benefit of all lumbermen wood using industries. Short, intensive training courses are given at the forest products laboratory of the forest service at Madison, Wis., that demonstrates the practical solution of the problem of factory and mill, and manufacturers and salesmen from all parts of the country are enrolled as students.

Thus far some 800 individuals, representing a wide variety of interests, have attended these courses, and many firms value this service so highly that they send representatives to the classes regularly.

The next courses will be held in December, the first opening on the first day of the month, and enrollments are now being received. Unfortunately the laboratory does not have sufficient funds to make it possible to give this service to the public, consequently a co-operative charge is made to cover the cost of the demonstration courses. This charge is uniformly $100 for the courses of one week and $150 for the two weeks' course.

The forest products laboratory is maintained in co-operation with the University of Wisconsin to promote the best and most economical use of the products of our forests and thereby help to perpetuate the forests themselves. While it is primarily a research institution the laboratory has as one of its primary functions the task of getting into practical application and use the knowledge and processes it discovers. It has gathered much practical information on the properties of wood and on the manufacture and use of wood products. The economical use of wood, it points out, is of large importance not only to the nation as a whole, threatened as it is with the consequences of forest depletion, but to the industries which will benefit by improved practices and by the saving of raw material.

HOW THE WORK IS CARRIED ON

The laboratory publishes the results of its researches in bulletins, technical notes and articles in trade journals. It also employs correspondence and personal contact for the same purpose. In still other instances it has found its greatest success in personal instruction, by which manufacturers, trade specialists, salesmen and consumers meet at the laboratory for demonstrations, tests, lectures, study and the discussion of individual problems.

Hence, the school. Demonstration courses are given in the kiln drying of lumber, boxing and crating, gluing of wood, and wood properties and uses. The instruction in these subjects aims to give not only basic knowledge but its practical application, and that it has been found extremely valuable is evidenced by the testimony of many men who have attended the courses.

The course in gluing runs for one week, beginning December 1; that in wood properties and uses, one week, beginning December 8, and that in kiln drying, two weeks, beginning December 8. The course in boxing and crating will not be offered this December, but will probably be available in the spring. Each course occupies the full time of those in attendance, so that it is not possible to take two courses simultaneously, but two may be taken successively.

The course in kiln drying is intended for factory and sawmill executives, foremen, kiln operators and other employees handling lumber or wood products, and the instruction is not confined to any particular type of kiln or kind of lumber. The laboratory has a convertible kiln which can be operated under either natural or forced circulation, and during the course a charge of lumber is dried so that the men may observe the tests of sample boards.

WHAT THE COURSE INCLUDES

This course includes the building and equipping of a kiln, its operation, a study of wood, defects in drying and how to prevent them, the effect of kiln drying on the strength of wood, the air seasoning of lumber, the decay and durability of wood and glues. The adaptability of different types of kiln for different species of wood, the correct temperatures to use, the importance of humidity in drying lumber, circulation, steaming and conditioning, the structure and composition of wood, the moisture content of wood, the shrinking and swelling of wood, and the identification of woods are among the subjects that are not only taught but demonstrated in a practical way. More students have taken this course than any other.

The course in boxing and crating is planned to be of assistance to any one engaged in the manufacture or sale of shipping containers and to any one in charge of the selection and use of containers for the shipment of goods.

The laboratory is equipped to test all types of containers. Two hexagonal, revolving drums, the larger 14 feet in diameter, give the containers drops and knocks which simulate the actual stresses, shocks and rough handling which a package receives in commercial service. A vibrating test machine reproduces the weaving actions and shocks to which a shipping container is subjected by the swaying of a moving freight car and the starting and stopping of a train. A compression machine tests the ability of different kinds of containers to resist crushing or distortion, while a drop test provides means of comparing their ability to resist sudden shock and brings out their characteristic weaknesses. Every type of container that is used commercially is demonstrated.

The course in gluing is intended for executives, managers, foremen and others in shops and factories which glue wood in any form, and for those making or selecting glue and gluing equipment. Emphasis is placed on the precautions which can easily be observed in the care and use of glues in the gluing conditions so as to improve the quality of the joints. All kinds of glues and all the more common woods used in glue construction are considered during the course and complete demonstrations are conducted.

Those who sell lumber, either at wholesale or retail, are interested primarily in the course in wood properties and uses, but it is also of advantage to executives of sawmills and distributing agencies, to lumber buyers and to consumers of lumber.

The purpose of this course is two-fold. First to give the salesman information on the technical and economic aspects of lumber which will be of use to him in selling his product for its most suitable purpose, and to enable him to advise his customers as to the best methods of handling and using lumber, if they would avoid some of the embarrassments that result from unskillful merchandising.

Second, to give the purchasing agent and the consumer reliable and unbiased information concerning our commercial woods which will make it possible to buy wisely and use economically and efficiently.

DINNER STORIES

"Pussyfoot" Johnson, about to sail for Europe, replied to a New York reporter who offered to buy him a drink:

"I am not worrying over prohibition enforcement, son. Why worry? A man once rang Russell Sage's door bell in the middle of the night. Russell hopped up in his big white nightshirt and put his head out of the window.

"What's wanted?" he said.

"Mr. Sage," said the man, "I can't sleep."

"What's that to me?" growled Russell, snoring as the night wind whistled about his bare, lead legs.

"That note falls due tomorrow, Mr. Sage."

"I know it does," snapped Russell.

"And I want to tell you, sir, I can't sleep because I won't be able to meet it."

"Go to the dickens," roared Russell Sage. "Now I can't sleep, either!"

JAIL SUSPECT FOR ROBBERY

Steubenville Prisoner Faces Burgettstown Charges.

Arrested when he attempted to paw a watch in Steubenville a young colored man, who gave his name as Robert Caruthers, was identified as one of the gang wanted in connection with a series of robberies at Burgettstown. Taken to the city hall, he was confronted by State Troopers W. E. Gore and F. R. Crawford of the Washington, Pa. barracks. He was grilled and finally broke down and confessed, police say.

The troopers found a small sum of money in his possession which he is said to have admitted stealing from a pool room in Burgettstown.

Caruthers waived extradition and was taken to Burgettstown where he was lodged in jail with several others who were arrested shortly after the robberies.

She Hopes For Complete Relief

Lisbon lady is feeling full of pep now since taking only 1 bottle and hopes for complete relief from "VENDOL."

"If the Vendol I'm getting now does as much good as the first I got for my wife she'll soon be an entirely new woman," enthusiastically stated Mr. Wm. Blankenship lives at Lisbon, O. R. D. No. 2, a well known farmer to the Vendol Specialist when replenishing his supply at Mathew's Medicine Store.

"Vendol has practically completely relieved her stomach of gas and sourness and she can eat anything now without distress. The pains in her back have disappeared and her liver has been fixed up which overcame the dizziness, bad breath and foul taste in her mouth. She's sleeping fine now, her bowels move regularly and she's full of pep."

"My wife also had quite a cough but it is not nearly so bad now that she started taking Vendol."

By strengthening the liver, kidneys, stomach and moving the bowels to action Vendol promptly relieved the complaints mentioned above and also rheumatism, catarrh, impure blood, headaches, nervousness and female weaknesses. Try it just one week and note the remarkable change in your feelings.

The Vendol Specialist at Mathew's Medicine Store says: "No one should confuse Vendol with any other medicine they have taken for this new tonic discovery will prove different. I want everyone to call on me and hear the merits of this great remedy."

TODAY'S RECIPES

Cornmeal or Wheat Cakes — One cup white flour, one cup cornmeal, buckwheat or whole wheat, two teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon soda, one and one-half cups sour milk, one or two eggs. One cup bread crumbs squeezed dry from cold water may be used in place of cornmeal or whole wheat flour if wished. Serve with syrup.

Fried Squash — Two young crook-neck squash, one-half cup milk, one tablespoon salt, one egg, two tablespoons flour, four tablespoons bacon fat. Boil the squash about 15 minutes—until a fork pierces easily to the center. Drain, and if the skin is too old to be eaten hold the squash with a fork in the left hand and remove the skin with a paring knife. Cut in one-half inch slices and dip in the batter made by mixing the flour, salt, egg and milk together in the order mentioned. Brown on both sides in the hot bacon and serve immediately.

Stuffed Spanish Onions—Boil three Spanish onions for about 20 minutes,

"Overweight is not due to bread-eating, but to over amounts of sugar, starch and fats and lack of exercise," says Mrs. Ida Bailey Allen, New York dietitian. "A small amount of starch is needed in every reducing diet. Bread is the best food for this purpose. All other starches and all sweets should be eliminated from the diet. Plenty of bread, sliced paper thin and dried out until crisp in over—with clear, hot tea for breakfast and luncheon, and everything one wants for dinner is the best reducing diet I know. Be sure to keep moving for 20 minutes after dinner." She explains the reason for drying the bread thus: "It is concentrated by the drying out process and the body is supplied with the necessary protein and fat as well as starch for energy and oxidation."

then remove the hearts, leaving the outside cases for a filling. Make a stuffing of bread crumbs mixed with the chopped centers of the onions, salt and pepper to taste, and two tablespoons of tomato sauce or two green peppers chopped. Sprinkle with three tablespoons of melted butter, set the pan in water, and bake for half an hour. The baking dish should be covered until the last five minutes, and the onions should be allowed to get dry. More butter can be added or a little hot water if they cook dry. Serve on a platter, garnish with sprigs of parsley.

SUGGESTIONS

Did you ever try keeping your buttons in a bottle? One housewife writes that she likes a bottle best of all to keep her buttons in. Glass vials with either screw tops or corks are best. You often get them from the drug store. You can see through the glass just what size button is there. They can also be used for snap fasteners and hooks and eyes.

Sweet Crab Apple Pickle — Wipe three pounds crab apples, remove stems and steam until soft. Tie in muslin bag, one and one-half teaspoons cloves, one and one-half teaspoons allspice berries, one and one-half teaspoons pepper corns, one and one-half teaspoons ginger, put in preserving kettle, add two cups cider vinegar, one cup sugar and the crab apples. Bring gradually to boiling point and let simmer 20 minutes.

Mango Pickles—(Stuffed Green Peppers.) One head cabbage, two tablespoons sugar, two tablespoons white mustard seed, one tablespoon celery salt, one tablespoon salt, four onions, one teaspoon ground cinnamon, no-half teaspoon ground cloves, one-half teaspoon ground pepper, eight large green peppers, two large red peppers, two tablespoons grated horseradish. Wash and wipe dry the red and green peppers, cut the latter in halves lengthwise, remove seeds and keep the two halves of each pepper together. Chop fine the red peppers, onions and cabbage; add salt, sugar and spices; mix thoroughly. Fill the green peppers with mixture; fit the two halves together and tie securely with a clean white cord. Place the stuffed peppers in a crock or glass jars and cover with cider vinegar to which has been added three or four hot Italian red peppers and one clove of garlic. Cover jars and keep in a cool place.

the cocktail habit is strongly condemned. The note continues:

"We do not hesitate to recommend stringent control for those young men who demonstrate their disregard for college rules and common decency by appearing gracefully intoxicated in public."

Cocktail drinking, by these experts, is ranked among "the most reprehensible forms of alcoholic abuse."
"The drinking of cocktails," the state,
"was scarcely known as an English custom a few years ago. American bars were, it is true, set up in London hotels and other refreshment places nearly a generation ago, but they were mainly regarded as hospitable containers undiluted spirits, combined with it flavoring essences and other constituents which disguise the crude alcohol and incite a desire for more."

Old Belief Eroneous.

"The old belief which excused a moderate indulgence—that cocktails create an appetite for food—is entirely erroneous. Their frequent consumption has a most injurious effect on the health."

Among the individual views of the contributors to the symposium are those of Sir Humphrey Rolleston, president of the Royal College of Physicians of London. He says:

"Alcohol is a depressant rather than a stimulant. Clinical observation, however, by innumerable medical men has brought in a verdict favorable on the whole to its use in disease. The main value of alcohol is in an emergency and as a temporary remedy.
Numerous experiments show that alcohol impairs resistance to infection.
Some alcoholic beverages, such as stout or beer, are foods in virtue of the contained carbohydrates and therefore, have their value apart from the question of the therapeutic use of pure alcohol."

"The average family drink bill for each British family," says Sir Arthur Newsholme (late principal medical officer to the Ministry of Health) is 38 pounds. The amount spent on drink in 1923 was equal to the total interest on the national debt. It would have paid the rental on every house, farm, shop, factory and estate in Great Britain."

Sir Richard Douglas Powell, physician to King George, says:

"The 'nipping' habit in which alcohol is taken, though it may be in small doses, several times a day, is the worst form of alcoholism, short of gross excess, from the longevity point of view."

"The value of wine with a meal is generally as an appetizer," says Professor Ernest M. Sterling, formerly adviser to the Ministry of Food. "Anything which adds to the enjoyment of a meal, or to the removal of distressing stress of mind, and which promotes a sense of ease and well-being, will increase the appetite and be favorable to the physiological processes of digestion."

Every Department of this Store Offers Special Inducements. Come, Join the Crowd and Save. Stein's—The Store of Quality and Values.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Stock prices were inclined to slightly higher levels in a more active session of the stock market today.

Mercantile stocks continued their forward movement, with May department stores, Gimbel, Woolworth and Associated Drygoods and Sears Roebuck in the lead. Shipping stocks, under the lead of Mercantile Marine, preferred and American International sold at fractionally higher prices. Low priced specialties and motor stocks were active and steady and covering movements in the industrial leaders accounted for gains of a point or more in American Can, Cast Iron Pipe, General Electric and Baldwin.

Elsewhere the market was inactive, but steady, with the only apparent weakness in a few of the low priced oils and specialties.

Buying of the steel stocks was stimulated and this encouraged traders to spread out into other sections of the list.

Heavy trading in the high priced industrials, principally from professional quarters, called attention to the stocks which are sponsored by powerful pools in the financial district. Cast Iron Pipe was again a feature, rising sharply to a new high at 118.

Oil stocks were supplied freely at current prices. With the exception of Marland, Pacific and Phillips, they had little opportunity to advance in price. Mexican Seaboard came out in large blocks around 23, for a loss of 1 from the previous close. Houston and Shell Union were active and slightly higher.

Atchison and New York Central featured the rails, both being fractionally higher and active on reports that higher dividends are being considered by the directors of the roads.

Money renewed at 2 per cent. Cotton was steady and grain markets slightly irregular.

Toledo Blade

any section of the state by the Toledo Blade with the co-operation of the leading newspapers in those sections.

The La Follette strength, which appeared to be the greatest source of worry to state and national politicians, appears in the light of the returns in a straw vote taken by classes to have been overestimated from the very start of the campaign. To ascertain something of the size of the La Follette vote and where it was to come from was not a hard matter to discover although the attendant noise of the Bobcat supporters was at first disconcerting to the professional politicians. The record of the straw vote which the Blade and its associates undertook showed that the Wisconsin's supporters made up in vociferation what they lacked in ballots.

Vote By Classes.
For the purpose of getting a line on how the several classes of voters in Ohio are going to act next Tuesday, they were divided into the several national lines.

In the larger counties there are five classes—business men and bankers; merchants and manufacturers; professional men; trades unionists and laborers, and clerks and traveling men. In the smaller counties the same general classification was observed—business men and bankers; merchants, manufacturers and clerks; professional men, and trade unionists or farmers. Two other women classes were set up in both the larger and smaller counties—professional women, under which were listed stenographers, telephone girls, nurses, teachers, etc., and club women and housewives.

In the majority of the larger counties—Cuyahoga, Hamilton, Franklin, Lucas, Summit, Montgomery, Mahoning—the Republican national ticket swept through the combined classes for both men and women with a percentage exceeding that established four years ago when Warren G. Harding broke all records in the size of Ohio majorities. The Coolidge vote appears likely to be considerably under that of 30 per cent. Yet the John W. Davis supporters will not be as many on election day as those who voted for Cox four years ago. La Follette shows signs of cutting into both the Republican and Democratic normal vote, yet not enough of a cut from Coolidge to put him in any danger nor enough from Davis to nose him out of second place.

Senator Due for Surprise.
The fact appears to be beyond dispute that aside from his supporters in the ranks of trade unionists and the professional women the Wisconsin senator will have a very meager vote. Stark county, which Canton is the county seat, is perhaps as good an index of what will happen as any in the state; for there the Socialist vote, to which the third party will fall heir in Ohio this year, is seen to move over en masse from the trades union-

HOW TO VOTE TO RETAIN POLICE CAPTAIN AND DISCIPLINED FORCE

Here is a sample ballot of referendum on ordinance No. 1914, which council passed in an attempt to abolish the police captaincy:
Referendum on Ordinance Number 1914, entitled "AN ORDINANCE ESTABLISHING THE PERSONNEL OF THE POLICE DEPARTMENT," passed by the East Liverpool City Council, providing "That the regular police department of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, shall be composed of one chief and seven patrolmen."

For approval of Ordinance Number 1914, YES.

X For approval of Ordinance Number 1914, NO.

Vote "No" by placing an X in the lower section of the ballot, as indicated above, if you desire to retain the police captaincy, the guiding hand of the patrol force at night.

Retention of the captaincy is essential to the smooth operation of the department.

ists and clerks to the La Follette standard. And yet the restricted vote among the five classes of men voters stands this way: Coolidge, 51 per cent; Davis, 26; La Follette, 23. La Follette's Ohio managers also are due for another surprise in the three Ohio coal fields—the Hocking, Muskingum-Guernsey and Belmont fields. Even where the nationalization of mines has worked up the miners to the fever pitch, such as is the condition existing in Guernsey county, the voters in the other classes promise to give the Republican national ticket a considerable plurality. And John W. Davis will lead La Follette, Down in Bysville and Forsythe, both coal mining towns, the miners clamored to vote in the poll taken by the Cambridge Jeffersonian. Despite the 58 votes they gave to the third party ticket to 19 for Coolidge and 15 for Davis, so great was the Coolidge and Davis vote in the other classes that the grand total shows Coolidge in the lead with 107 Davis next with 99, and La Follette third with the sole vote of the miners.

Farmers Favor Coolidge.
Similar stories come from Athens and other counties in the Hocking district. The rural vote in Belmont county also overcomes the La Follette vote from among the miners.

Whatever hope the third party managers had for a large vote among the farmer class must have been surrendered by this time in the face of bountiful crops at the highest prices since 1920. These are the percentages which give an indication of how the farmers will vote:

Defiance county, with a large German-American population: Coolidge, 46; Davis, 32; La Follette, 22; Seneca, nominally Democratic: Coolidge, 56; Davis, 26; La Follette, 18; Washington, away down on the Ohio river in southern Ohio, (the birthplace of General Charles G. Dawes, by the way) Coolidge, 50; Davis, 34; La Follette, 16. Hhen for an old line Democratic county, which landed on the Harding bandwagon four years ago, but which nevertheless has a long Democratic history, observe Ottawa county, the center of the peach belt. There John W. Davis is running second and bearer and eight to one for La Follette.

Among the iron workers of Youngstown La Follette leads Davis by a shade, yet Coolidge is away off in front in the other classes and sitting pretty as they say. Immediately to the north of Mahoning county lies Trumbull, largely an agricultural county. There Coolidge is a prohibitive favorite, running even farther away from both his opponents than Harding did four years ago.

Columbiana County Poll.
Akron, the rubber city, shows its preference for the Republican national ticket in all classes excepting the one—organized labor. But even there the percentage of trades unionists will not run more than 12 per cent of the total vote.

Montgomery county, which deserted Cox four years ago, is sitting astride the fence, undecided whether to jump onto the Republican or Democratic side, the vote among the men running to these percentages: Coolidge, 40; Davis, 37.8; La Follette, 22.1, but the women are so much more favorably inclined toward the Democratic ticket that the balance for both men and women swings this way: Coolidge, 39 per cent; Davis, 43.7; La Follette, 17.3.

Just to make it an unanimous disappointment for the third party take a glance at the percentages in the two pottery centers, East Liverpool and Zanesville, largest cities in Columbiana and Muskingum counties: Columbiana, Coolidge, 60 per cent; Davis, 25; La Follette, 15; Muskingum: Coolidge, 58; per cent; Davis, 26.7; La Follette, 14.6.

Indeed, it would not be at all surprising, if three national tickets do not last when two of Ohio's sons were disputing for the highest honor in the land. Registration figures have been disappointing, doubly so because of the effort to get out the vote. Ohioans never took as little interest, apparently, in a national election as they are showing this year. The poll of the Blade and its associates discloses this fact: Ohioans generally have made up their mind to stand by the constitution, and they are going to vote their convictions uninfluenced by personal appeal.

Davis Appeals

sin, to vote and rest after a month of campaigning that has taken him along the Atlantic seaboard and across the Mississippi river into the vast corn and wheat belts of the nation.

He left the east and particularly New England where in Boston last night he hit savagely the foreign policy of the Harding-Coolidge administration with renewed optimism over the success of the independent ticket, La Follette declared today.

Vote For HARRY A. BELL, of Steubenville, Ohio, for Judge of the Court of Appeals in the non-partisan judicial ticket. Election Nov. 4th.

Political Advertising.

rying on and their progress is indicated by the surprising about-face executed by the Central Trades and Labor Council in the last 24 hours.

Last September this council endorsed Senator La Follette, along with the greater part of all organized labor at the behest of the American Federation of Labor. Today this same council has back tracked on its endorsement of the Wisconsin Senator and is now out with a manifesto appealing to its enormous membership to vote for John W. Davis.

"We now realize" says this remarkable document, "that Mr. La Follette has no chance of being elected and that a vote for him anywhere in the east is a vote for the enemies of labor—Coolidge and Dawes."

"ON clear thinking man a woman can compare Davis and Coolidge and their records without coming to the conclusion that in every way Davis is the better candidate. We hereby endorse John W. Davis and recommend to our entire membership and to all interested in the cause of labor to vote and work for the election of Davis."

Dems Center

Democrats Jubilant.

The central trades council of great-er New York is the greatest single unit in the A. F. of L. It composes some 700,000 members—constituting more than one-fifth the entire membership of the Federation.

Naturally the Democrats were jubilant today. Here is one big thrust, they say, they have increased the Davis vote in New York state by "hundreds of thousands."

Whether this is true or not can only be revealed, of course, no November 4. The La Follette managers, somewhat taken back and not a little resentful, declared today this last-minute switch will have little or no effect next Tuesday. This action, they added, was taken by a group of a dozen leaders.

They said, is so solidly entrenched behind La Follette it cannot be coaxed out or blown out by the manifesto of any such group of leaders.

Irrespective of this controversy over the result labor's last-minute switch in New York, the whole matter is indicative of the intensity of the drive that the Democrats are making for these 45 votes of the Empire state.

Senator Pittman's Claim.
One of the Democratic generals in this final offensive is Senator Key Pittman of Nevada. He knows his West. And irrespective of straw votes and barometric polls he said today that Davis will carry at least five states west of the Mississippi, exclusive of the border states, Missouri and Oklahoma. The five he named are his own Nevada, Kansas, Nebraska, Arizona and New Mexico.

Coming eastward he claimed Indiana, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Delaware and New Hampshire. These, combined with the solid south and the border states, will bring Davis to within six votes of a majority in the electoral college.

"And we have an equal chance of carrying New York, Illinois and Ohio," he said.

New York being the largest, the Democrats are shooting at New York "and mind you," said the Nevada Senator, "I am not here taking into account La Follette, if La Follette carries four states, then Calvin Coolidge cannot be elected."

Hughes and Wilbur in East.
Few campaigns have ever witnessed such a last-minute concentration of talent in one small area as is taking place in New York this closing week.

Davis himself chose to spend all week here and tomorrow night will make his supreme and closing argument at Carnegie hall.

For the Coolidge forces, Secretary of State Hughes has been put on the stump here. He and Secretary of the Navy Wilbur will represent the administration in tomorrow night's finale.

Woman's Slayer

Never Made Arrest.
"Did you ever make an arrest in East Liverpool?" he was asked.

"No, I never made any arrests here, but I often accompanied other officers when arrests were made," he replied.

"I went with Officer Chester Smith, whom I have known for a long time, William Baremore and Raymond Chambers."

"Did you carry a gun at the time of these raids?"

"Yes, I did because I had a written permit to carry it. You will find the permit among my personal effects, if it has not already been removed."

Up until a few weeks ago Wolfe worked for the sewer pipe company and then took a job as a laborer for Charles Poole, East End plumber.

"I had a little trouble with the foreman at the clay mine and I quit," Wolfe said.

"I have not yet retained an attorney, but intend to do so just as soon as I am able to get out. No one has been to see me since the shooting. My relatives live in Kentucky, but they know I am in the hospital."

Blames Note for Tragedy.
"Why did you shoot Mrs. Dearth?" he was asked.

"I am not in a position to tell all I know now, but I received a note which threatened my life unless I left town. I turned the note over to Officer Smith."

"What has that to do with the shooting?"

"That was responsible for it." "You don't think Mrs. Dearth sent the note to you?"

"No."

"When did you turn the note over to Officer Smith?"

"A few days after I received it."

"Why do you think the note was sent to you?"

"I don't know unless it was by some person wishing to get me out of the way. Mrs. Dearth was nothing to me and there should have been no reason for trying to get me to leave town."

"Do you have any idea who it was?"

"No, I don't."

Unaware Woman is Dead.
Wolfe appeared to be unaware of the fact that Mrs. Dearth had been killed, judging from a question he asked his interviewer.

"She (meaning Mrs. Dearth) was pretty badly hurt herself, wasn't she?"

"Yes" was the reply.

"Is your mind clear on the trouble?"

"Entirely so, although I am pretty weak yet. My sight is not very good yet, I think it will be a long time before I am able to walk."

Guards On Duty.

The wound caused by the bullet is healing nicely and Wolfe is believed to be out of danger. He will be arraigned before Mayor Brown on a preliminary charge of murder just as soon as he is able to leave the hospital.

Insanity may be Wolfe's defense. It is likely that a sanity commission will examine him before he is placed on trial to determine whether he is sane.

Two guards have been placed over Wolfe at the hospital during the night to prevent any attempt to escape. During the day he is shackled to his cot.

Scores Hit "Trail"

were in attendance who were 70 or more.

Preceding the service three minutes of time was given for all to get acquainted with each other.

Dr. Biederwolf explained to his hearers the purpose of the family altar league, an organization devoted to the promotion of the restoring of worship in the homes of the country.

Sermon on "Mother."
Mr. McEwan sang "Blessed Jesus" following the invocation by Dr. F. A. Dean of the Second Presbyterian church.

"Mother, I'll Wear a White Flower for You" was sung by Mr. Heaton with Mr. McEwan joining him in the chorus.

Dr. Biederwolf, following the exercises of the afternoon, spoke briefly. His subject was "Mother." He reminded his hearers that the greatest debt they owed their mother following the tenderest care they could give her was the living of a Christian life.

"You younger mothers who are now rearing your children owe them in the great influence you have over them the example of a Christian and sincere life," he said. "You will be the responsibility if, like many American mothers, you permit your off-springs to run wild without restraining influences."

REVIVAL PLANS FOR WEEK-END
Friday Night—Sermon by Dr. Biederwolf; subject, "No Man Can Save His Soul."
Saturday Night—Sermon by Dr. Biederwolf; subject, "The Leprosy of Sin."

Sunday Afternoon—Sermon by Dr. Biederwolf for women only, subject, "A Jewel of Gold in a Swine's Mouth."

Sunday Night—Sermon for men and women at the tabernacle.

Churching on Thursday night was the big choir of the Kwanan club of East Liverpool and the Boosters' club of Chester, W. Va., both of which clubs Dr. Biederwolf had addressed at their own meetings. They were warmly greeted by Mr. McEwan.

A contingent from the E. M. Knowles pottery of Newell also attended. "You are but the advance guard from your plant," averred Mr. McEwan who welcomed them. "All of you are coming on next Wednesday night."

Both the Boosters' clubs and the Knowles delegation carried banners. Rev. Mr. Schrader, pastor of the First M. E. church of Newell, made the invocation on Thursday night and Mr. McEwan sang following several contributions by the choir.

town. I turned the note over to Officer Smith."

"What has that to do with the shooting?"

"That was responsible for it." "You don't think Mrs. Dearth sent the note to you?"

"No."

"When did you turn the note over to Officer Smith?"

"A few days after I received it."

"Why do you think the note was sent to you?"

"I don't know unless it was by some person wishing to get me out of the way. Mrs. Dearth was nothing to me and there should have been no reason for trying to get me to leave town."

"Do you have any idea who it was?"

"No, I don't."

Unaware Woman is Dead.
Wolfe appeared to be unaware of the fact that Mrs. Dearth had been killed, judging from a question he asked his interviewer.

"She (meaning Mrs. Dearth) was pretty badly hurt herself, wasn't she?"

"Yes" was the reply.

"Is your mind clear on the trouble?"

"Entirely so, although I am pretty weak yet. My sight is not very good yet, I think it will be a long time before I am able to walk."

Guards On Duty.

The wound caused by the bullet is healing nicely and Wolfe is believed to be out of danger. He will be arraigned before Mayor Brown on a preliminary charge of murder just as soon as he is able to leave the hospital.

Insanity may be Wolfe's defense. It is likely that a sanity commission will examine him before he is placed on trial to determine whether he is sane.

Two guards have been placed over Wolfe at the hospital during the night to prevent any attempt to escape. During the day he is shackled to his cot.

DEATH ROLL
Otto W. Will.

Word was received here Friday of the death of Otto W. Will, chemist, who succumbed suddenly on Wednesday night in his home in Perth Amboy, N. J.

He was widely known in pottery circles in this district, where he was active for approximately 25 years, through his connections as chemist and superintendent of the Perth Amboy plants of the Roessler-Hasslacher Chemical Co. He was also known as one of the organizers and active members of the American Ceramic society.

Funeral services will be held Saturday under direction of the Perth Amboy B. P. O. Elks, of which organization he was thrice exalted ruler.

SHAVINGS AND SAWDUST FOUND IN DR. BIEDERWOLF'S TABERNACLE

The Salvation Army band which has been doing such a notable work during the present campaign had an amusing incident on Wednesday night when, after leading some of the visiting delegations to the tabernacle, the organization marched to the First Methodist Episcopal church to escort the Business Men banquet there to the revival services.

The members played several numbers on the outside and finally, no one appearing one of the musicians went inside to investigate the cause of the delay and, lo, the banqueters had been gone several minutes before their arrival. The delegation and band missed each other on the way and, without knowing it, passed each other.

Members of the Mothers' Day committee met at the tabernacle on Friday morning and arranged bouquets of the flowers that had been left over from the Mothers' day decorations and distributed by for automobiles to the shut-in and ill of the community.

At the Business Men's banquet and later at the tabernacle were some who have not been in church for long periods. One of them said to not have attended worship within the portals of such an edifice in 37 years.

Church night will be celebrated in the tabernacle on Friday night. All congregations will be given special places at the tabernacle on this occasion. Because of other delegations attending on Wednesday night, church night was postponed to Friday night.

The indifference of East Liverpool church members are such that they will argue themselves black in the face before they give up their favorite sins.

If you put in one-half the time trying to know God as you are in making money you would develop a sense of sin and responsibility.

Some men can swear and curse and have no compunction of conscience about it.

Dr. Biederwolf was unable to go to Newell Wednesday morning. Instead Mr. McEwan and Mr. Heaton of the evangelistic party went. The former sang and Mr. Heaton talked. An enthusiastic service was had.

The tabernacle qualifies as a place of quiet and order in which to hold a series of meetings. The clang of street cars, the honk and chug of automobiles are conspicuous by their absence and the occasional passing of trains does not interfere with the meetings.

"First Corinthians 16:1: Now concerning the collection," asserted Dr. Biederwolf, quoting the verse. "He aroused a laugh and the 'knights of the pie pans' were soon following the biblical injunction.

"Church night" will be celebrated on Friday night. Then every official, member of the official boards and all members of the cooperating congregations are expected to be in attendance. Special places will be given each congregation at the tabernacle.

A shop meeting will be held at the Vredy pottery on East Fourth street on Friday.

"White Ribbon White Ribbon! Hurrah! Hurrah! Biederwolf! Biederwolf!"

The above yell was used by the members of the W. C. T. U. when they arose from their reserved section in the tabernacle Wednesday night after they had been welcomed by Mr. McEwan.

"In the Cross of Christ I Glory!" was sung by the big choir and congregation just preceding the Wednesday night sermon. All lights, except those on the hung Cross over the speaking rostrum, were subdued, making an atmosphere compelling in the result those obtained.

The T. S. & T. banner made up of decorated plates has been placed against the wall in the rear of the choral seats. It makes an inviting appearance as it rests under the flag hanging above it.

Some churchmen, after taking a vow of allegiance to Jesus Christ, have gone in for dishonest business methods, indulged in Sabbath desecration, obscene conversations and otherwise disgraced their vows.

You church members felt like a sheep-killing dog as you came out of a movie on prayer meeting night.

It is said to be disappointed in others, but it is worse to be disappointed in yourself.

There is not a backsliden member ready to meet their God if called.

What a cleaning up there would be in some clubs and homes if called hence. The theatres would be empty and the prayer meetings full.

Some of you church members have gone into church and taken the bread and wine, emblematic of your Lord's broken body and shed blood to show forth his death until He comes and then 24 hours later you were sitting around with some turkey-buzzards telling smutty and rotten stories.

The man and woman who are meaner than a thief are they who will not keep the vow of constancy.

Some people don't believe in forcing their children to go to church because you fear they will get gorged with religion and won't take it when they grow up. Why don't you acknowledge you are a backslider and that your children have not much of a pattern to follow.

Some of you people spent 56 hours last week in reading novels and not one minute in perusing the Bible.

Some women will go through slush to attend a literary club

Hundreds of East Liverpool people who would now be "laying off" are on their jobs today, earning dollars and cents, instead of incurring expenses, as a result of having taken World's Tonic. World's Tonic makes strength—it banishes dyspepsia, heartburn, headaches and general run down conditions of health.

One of those who have been benefited by World's Tonic is John Griffin, employed at house painting for himself, this city. He says:

"Yes, I credit World's Tonic for the good way I feel now, and that is going some. I was in a dreadful condition before I took World's Tonic. My stomach was all upset. I couldn't sleep soundly and I had to be very careful what I ate."

"I had attacks of indigestion that lasted for hours. There was a sort of gnawing sensation in the pit of my stomach."

"My tongue was coated in the morning and I often had headaches that I thought would split my head in two. About this time I began reading in the newspapers in regard to World's Tonic. I decided to try it and I'm mighty glad I did so."

"It is remarkable how World's Tonic helped me. I feel splendid now. All of my stomach troubles have disappeared and I feel stronger in every way. No more headaches or indigestion for me. Not while I can get World's Tonic."

"This little star will twinkle Monday."

This little lady is Gladys Briggs and she is said "to be one of the most accomplished dancers of her age today." East Liverpool people will have an opportunity to see her perform as a member of the cast of artists with the Billy Allen Musical Company which opens a week's engagement at the Ceramic Theatre beginning Monday matinee, Nov. 3.

In connection with the Billy Allen Musical Company "Tiger Love" a big Paramount special feature photoplay will be shown, thus giving the theatre goers of East Liverpool a big double show.

obtaining spectacles," declared Lewis H. Carris, Managing Director of the National Committee for the Prevention of Blindness, in an address before the Annual meeting of the American Public Health association here.

"Any impression that the nation is rapidly going blind, or that over half of our school children need to wear glasses, is so obvious an exaggeration," declared Mr. Carris, "that the true condition of affairs is lost sight of—namely, that approximately one-eighth of the children in our schools are suffering from eye diseases or visual defects, many of which may be removed by properly fitted glasses or by medical attention."

Mr. Carris pointed out that, although estimates have placed the extent of defective vision among school children as high as 60 per cent, a nation-wide investigation which has been conducted by his committee during the last year indicates that for the country at large an average of only 12.1 per cent of school children have defective vision.

"There can be little question," Mr. Carris said, "that the eyes of most children reported as having normal vision may have some slight degree of ocular defect; but physical vigor and general health tone enable the child to have standard vision, in spite of eye imperfections. Until there is some more uniform procedure throughout the country in giving examinations this percentage must be accepted as a fair indication of the size of the problems which defective vision presents to school authorities."

"The percentage of defective vision in rural districts is higher than that of city districts. The figures from Pennsylvania are representative. In rural districts 16.8 per cent of children were found to have defective vision. In cities of 10,000 to 30,000 the percentage was 12.3 per cent. In cities of 10,000 to 30,000 the percentage was 12.3 per cent. In cities over 30,000 the percentage was 8.5 per cent."

"The probable explanation of this difference is that the followup and corrective measures in the cities are superior to those in the rural districts. The difference can also be accounted for by the inferior lighting of rural schools and rural homes, as compared with urban schools and homes."

Speaking on "The Responsibilities of Board's of Health and Boards of Education in Detecting and Correcting Vision Defects of School Children," Mr. Carris pointed out the importance of determining to what extent defects in vision and diseased eyes conditions would be discovered by examinations which is a practical to conduct in schools. "In actual practice," he said, "examinations are given by medical examiners, by nurses, by teachers, or by a combination of these."

Mr. Carris deplored the lack of any definite standard for making eye examinations and announced that a study looking toward the development of such standards is now being conducted jointly by a Committee of the National Education Association and the American Medical Association, with the co-operation of the National Committee for the Prevention of Blindness.

JAIL SUSPECT FOR ROBBERY

Steubenville Prisoner Faces Burgettstown Charges.

Arrested when he attempted to pass a watch in Steubenville a young colored man, who gave his name as Robert Caruthers, was identified as one of the gang wanted in connection with a series of robberies at Burgettstown. Taken to the city hall, he was confronted by State Troopers W. E. Gore and F. R. Crawford of the Washington, Pa., barracks. He was grilling and finally broke down and confessed, police say.

The troopers found a small sum of money in his possession which he is said to have admitted stealing from a pool room in Burgettstown.

Caruthers waived extradition and was taken to Burgettstown where he was lodged in jail with several others who were arrested shortly after the robberies.

She Hopes For Complete Relief

Lisbon lady is feeling full of pep now since taking only 1 bottle and hopes for complete relief from "VENDOL."

"If the Vendol I'm getting now does as much good as the first I got for my wife she'll soon be an entirely new woman," enthusiastically stated Mr. Wm. Blankenship lives at Lisbon, O. R. D. No. 2, a well known farmer to the Vendol Specialist when replenishing his supply at Mathew's Medicine Store.

"Vendol has practically completely relieved her stomach of gas and sourness and she can eat anything now without distress. The pains in her back have disappeared and her liver has been fixed up which overcame the dizziness, bad breath and foul taste in her mouth. She's sleeping fine now, her bowels move regularly and she's full of pep."

"My wife also had quite a cough but it is not nearly so bad now that she started taking Vendol."

By strengthening the liver, kidneys, stomach and moving the bowels to action Vendol promptly relieved the complaints mentioned above and also rheumatism, catarrh, impure blood, headaches, nervousness and female weaknesses. Try it just one week and note the remarkable change in your feelings.

The Vendol Specialist at Mathew's Medicine Store says: "No one should confuse Vendol with any other medicine they have taken for this new tonic discovery will prove different. I want everyone to call on me and hear the merits of this great remedy."

Buckeye Motor Co. Cuts Hudson and Essex Coach Prices

Substantial price reductions on Hudson and Essex coaches were announced today by The Buckeye Motor Co., following the receipt of a special message from the Hudson Motor Car Co.

The reduction results in the Hudson coach, a closed car, now selling at less than the standard open cars on the same chassis. This is the first time in motor car history when this has been true, it is declared. The Hudson coach's new list price is $1,395 as against $1,400 for the 4-passenger open Super-Six car and $1,500 for the 7-passenger open car.

The Essex coach at $945 is still slightly higher than the Essex open car, but the differential is declared by Hudson-Essex officials to be the smallest in the industry aside from Hudson.

This move by the Hudson Car Co.—unexpected, because the last few weeks has seen a substantial number of motor car price increases—is taken to mean that Hudson-Essex now regards open cars as luxuries, and proposes to give the advantage of volume production to the enclosed cars which make up at least 90 per cent. of its production. Open car and sedan prices are unchanged.

The reduction was made possible, according to Hudson officials, because 1924 has been the largest sales year in Hudson history, the hitherto unknown 100,000 mark having been reached about Sept. 1. Volume economies have thus been possible.

STORING VITAMINS

The average healthy person stores up within the body several days' supply of essential vitamins. This explains why a well-nourished person of any age is less susceptible to germ-infection than those who are malnourished.

Scott's Emulsion

is a safety-factor that helps keep you well-nourished. A very little used daily to complement the regular diet, activates with essential vitamins and helps build resistance.

Store up a reserve of essential vitamins—take Scott's regularly. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

MIDLAND-BEAVER ROAD CONCRETED

Pouring of concrete on the road between Midland and Beaver was completed Thursday. With the exception of the two overgrade crossings of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh railroad company tracks at Vanport and Barkley's crossing the highway is improved.

The question of locating these crossings is in dispute and will be settled by the state public service commission. Hearings were to have been held two weeks ago, but were indefinitely postponed. However, it is stated, that both crossings are in good condition and delay until next spring will not be contested.

POTTERY TEAMS IN Y. M. LEAGUE

East End industrial plants will be represented in the Y. M. C. A. Industrial basketball league which will open the season early in December. Managers of the teams are busy lining up players and several new faces will be seen in the local squads.

Will J. Scott, secretary of the league, will shortly call a meeting of managers and officials, when plans will be formulated for the campaign. Following the custom of other years it is probable that the playing season will be divided, the first half to close around the Christmas holidays and the second resuming after New Year's.

Seniors and Juniors Give Halloween Party in School

A Halloween party was given by the members of the senior and junior class of the local high school, Thursday evening, in the gymnasium room and in the corridors of the school building, which was decorated with corn fodder, autumn leaves, pumpkins, black cats and other novelties of the season. Trophies were awarded Miss Margaret Woessner for the prettiest costume; John Mercer, for the hardest to guess, and David Wherry and Ronald Keaven for the most unique costumes.

Two hundred guests, including seniors, juniors, and their special guests, the members of the faculty, took part in the old-fashioned games. A fortune telling booth was a great attraction, while many other old-time entertainments were featured.

William Morgan of the senior class gave a violin solo.

Refreshments were served by the social committee. Kenneth Pyle, president of the senior class, was in charge of the arrangements for the party.

CARE OF THE HAIR
Go into almost any household and in the bathroom will be found a tooth brush and a tube of tooth paste for each of its members. The dentist has educated the public to the dangers of neglecting the teeth. Neglect of the teeth causes them to decay; neglect of the hair causes its loss. The two are very similar, but a tooth hurts while the scalp itches. When it does the disease is deep and scratching makes it deeper. Should it hurt instead of itch there would be fewer bald heads.

Constance Talmadge In New Comedy Role In "Goldfish" Picture

Constance Talmadge's admirers will whoop with joy when they see her in "The Goldfish," a First National picture which will be shown at the American theatre on next Monday.

Constance has definitely deserted the field of costume drama and has resumed her activities as a comedienne. And her comeback is made in a comedy which is a side-splitter.

In "The Goldfish," which was directed by Jerome Storm, Constance has three husbands, roles played by Jack Mulhall, Jean Hersholt, and William Conklin. Two of the husbands are divorced, that is to say they are handed the fatal bowl of goldfish which gives them their congenies, and the third husband conveniently dies.

Just as Constance is about to marry her fourth husband, the Duke of Middlesex, a series of events occur which throw her back into the arms of her first husband and all ends happily.

"The Goldfish" was adapted by C.
Gardner Sullivan from Gladys Unger's stage play in which Marjorie Rambeau was featured.

Jack Mulhall is Constance's leading man. Others having prominent roles in the cast are Jean Hersholt, Za Su
Pitts, Edward Connelly, William
Conklin, Nellie Bly Baker, Leo White and Frank Elliott.

YANK COCKTAIL IS POPULAR IN GREAT BRITAIN

Spread of Habit Alarms Doctors of Country.

HUGE SUM SPENT

Outlay in 1923 on Drink Enough to Pay Debt Interest.

LONDON, October—A remarkable able symposium on the uses and effects of alcohol, contributed by the foremost British medical authorities, has just been published in a special number of the Practitioner.

An introductory note calls attention to the "great increase of alcoholic abuse among university students," and

BELGIAN GIRL GAINS FAME BY PORTRAIT DOLLS

Helene Sardeau of New York, Belgian-born girl, has attained fame with her portrait dolls. Many of New York's greatest writers, stage and screen stars and society people have been her models.

the cocktail habit is strongly condemned. The note continues: "We do not hesitate to recommend stringent control for those young men who demonstrate their disregard for college rules and common decency by appearing gracefully intoxicated in public."

Cocktail drinking, by these experts, is ranked among "the most reprehensible forms of alcoholic abuse." "The drinking of cocktails," the state, "was scarcely known as an English custom a few years ago. American bars were, it is true, set up in London hotels and other refreshment places nearly a generation ago, but they were mainly regarded as hospitable contains undiluted spirits, combined with it flavoring essences and other constituents which disguise the crude alcohol and incite a desire for more."

Old Belief Erroneous.
"The old belief which excused a moderate indulgence—that cocktails create an appetite for food—is entirely erroneous. Their frequent consumption has a most injurious effect on the health."

Among the individual views of the contributors to the symposium are those of Sir Humphrey Rolleston, president of the Royal College of Physicians of London. He says:

"Alcohol is a depressant rather than a stimulant. Clinical observation, however, by innumerable medical men has brought in a verdict favorable on the whole to its use in disease. The main value of alcohol is in an emergency and as a temporary remedy. Numerous experiments show that alcohol impairs resistance to infection. Some alcoholic beverages, such as stout or beer, are foods in virtue of the contained carbohydrates and therefore, have their value apart from the question of the therapeutic use of pure alcohol."

"The average family drink bill for each British family," says Sir Arthur Newsholme (late principal medical officer to the Ministry of Health) is 35 pounds. The amount spent on drink in 1923 was equal to the total interest on the national debt. It would have paid the rental on every house, farm, shop, factory and estate in Great Britain."

Sir Richard Douglas Powell, physician to King George, says: "The 'nipping' habit in which alcohol is taken, though it may be in small doses, several times a day, is the worst form of alcoholism, short of gross excess, from the longevity point of view."

"The value of wine with a meal is generally as an appetizer," says Professor Ernest M. Sterling, formerly adviser to the Ministry of Food. "Anything which adds to the enjoyment of a meal, or to the removal of disturbing stress of mind, and which promotes a sense of ease and well-being, will increase the appetite and be favorable to the physiological processes of digestion."

for Steady Nerves!

Riding a girder is not a job for a nervous man.

BUT no one is nervous by choice. There is a way that you may so strengthen your body that the nervous system will be cushioned on sound muscles and flesh. But this condition will not come about unless you have rich red blood-cells. Red blood-cells are the most important thing in all the world to each of us. More red blood-cells! That's what you need when your nerves give way and you cannot control yourself.

S.S.S. will prove to you its "Why" and "How" reason. Since 1826 S.S.S. has helped thousands. Because S.S.S. does build blood-power, it builds you up when you are run-down, clears the system of blood impurities; rouses so-called skin disorders—and stops rheumatism, too.

This is why S.S.S. is accepted as the greatest of all blood purifiers, blood builders and system strengtheners. Start taking S.S.S. today. Its medicinal ingredients are purely vegetable. Your nerves will become stronger, you will have more energy, vitality and vigor and a more up and going appearance.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

"Feet of Clay," Big Photoplay Feature, Scores at Ceramic

In his latest Paramount screen offering Cecil B. DeMille of the alluring flavored cinema concoctions has reached in all directions to make "Feet of Clay," at the Ceramic theatre Friday and Saturday strictly 1924.

The heroine, played by the new type to whom the public interest has turned, the flapper, grown from parties and petting at seventeen to marriage and responsibilities at twenty-one.

Of course, there is a wonderful DeMille party, a dance floor laid over a pool with interesting connecting bridges. All of this is preceded by a colorful beach sequence, utilizing a myriad striking novelties, and featuring an exciting race between twenty girls on surf boards behind fast speed boats.

Mix in a struggling couple in a Harlem flat, a mid-ocean fight between a swimmer and shark, and it may readily be seen that DeMille is back again in all his old form.

Timeliness and novelty, according to a careful census of the greatest film success of the past ten years, seem to be the two most infallible ingredients of a photoplay that will please the theatre-going public. "Feet of Clay" is timely and has novelty to spare. Draw your own conclusions!

Featured in the principal roles of "Feet of Clay" are, besides Miss Reynolds, Rod La Rocque, Victor Varconi, Ricardo Cortez, Julia Faye, Theodore Kosloff and Robert Edeson. The story is an adaptation of Margaretta

SOAKS RIGHT IN AND LIMBERS UP STIFF JOINTS

Pharmacists call it "Joint Ease" because it's for Swollen, Sore Painful, Creaky Joints Only.

It took a good many years to get together a combination of pain subduing and swelling reducing agents declared to be the one remedy that almost instantly penetrates through skin and flesh and starts right in to make swollen, inflamed, creaky, pain racked joints as good as new.

They call this new and wonderful preparation "Joint-Ease" because the medical man who turned the trick, worked for years to perfect some low-priced remedy that would really benefit the millions of people who have one or more joints that need helpful attention.

So "Joint-Ease" is prepared only for people who have a swollen, painful, creaky, distorted or stiff joint, whether it be in knee, elbow, shoulder, ankle, neck or finger, and whether it is caused by rheumatism or anything else.

Of course, it can't help but quickly put an end to such superficial ailments as lumbago, neuralgia, neuritis, aching muscles, stiffness in the side, crick in the neck or sore feet because of its penetrating action, but what it is really recommended for is joint ailments of any nature whatever.

Ask for a tube of "Joint-Ease." You can use it several times in one evening for quick results, because it goes right through the skin with only a few seconds rubbing. It surely is a swift penetrator and when it gets under the skin, it starts right in to clean up all joint trouble.

Jesse D. Holloway dispenses it daily for about 60 cents a tube, as do first class druggists everywhere.

Always remember, when Joint-Ease gets in joint agony gets out—quick.

Every rheumatic sufferer ought to send today for free book, "The Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism" (just out). Address H. P. Clearwater, box 800, Hallowell, Maine.

Tuttle's immensely popular magazine serial of the same name. Beulah Marie Dix and Botram Milhauser wrote the screen play.

With the exception of "The Ten Commandments," "Feet of Clay" is by far DeMille's best production to date—and one of the finest pictures for all-round entertainment and thrills we have ever seen.

To Widen Streets

MIDDLEPORT, O.—Plans are being made in both Middleport and Pomeroy to care for an unusual volume of traffic in the coming years, and it will probably be necessary to widen streets at several points. Roads leading from Cincinnati, Athens, Charleston and other centers are being completed in the Pomeroy bend, with traffic this fall doubled.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

TIMELY VIEWS ON WORLD TOPICS

SUN CALLS SOVIET FRIEND OF CHINA.

Although the world powers want to stop the revolution in China, the Chinese people believe it will succeed and that China will be united and will be a happy nation. Dr. Sun Yat Sen, President of the South China Government, declared in a recent interview with Dr. Gertrude R. Brigham, Professor of English at Canton Christian College. A summary of this interview was made public recently by the Rev. Dr. James McClure Henry, President of the college, who is spending some weeks at the American headquarters, in New York.

"The Governments in Europe and America won't let the revolution in China take its own course," went on Dr. Sen, "but want always to stop it, counteract it. You American people carried out your own revolution successfully and established the United States in North America, and you get peace."

"We want to follow your example. We want the revolution in China to change all the old system, and build it anew. But the so-called civilized powers always favor a counter revolution working to stop the revolution in China."

Revolution Natural Force.

"Revolution is a natural force and resembles a stone rolling from a mountain top. It cannot be stopped half way. One must let it roll from the top to the bottom before it can be stopped. The revolution in China is the same thing. Although powers all over the world want to stop this revolution we Chinese people believe in spite of these great powers, in spite of England, in spite of imperialism—we believe that finally the revolution will succeed, and then China will be united and will be a peaceful nation.

"Tell your people not to let your Government carry out any more measures in support of the counter-revolution. After all, we are only following your example, which your forefathers did before us."

Russia, Once Enemy, Now Friend

Dr. Sun made no secret of the fact that he looks upon Russia as a friend. "Formerly looked upon as an enemy of China under the old imperialistic regime, Russia is today a friend," he said. "You see that friendship expressing itself in Chinese and Russian agreement, abolishing extra privileges for foreigners, who in China are outside our laws. Russia has done what America has partly done, remitted her share of the Boxer indemnity. With over 1,000 miles of territory bordering, we are bound up on the same terms with her, terms of friendliness or enmity. We can see well that we should be friends. That is a cardinal point of China's foreign policy now. Russia is the only country which has responded, all others having persecuted us.

"Russia, whatever may be said of her now or may have been said of her today, is a great power. This cry of Communism shall not deter us from being friends with Russia."

Says America Follows England

"If Wu Pei-fu is permitted to subjugate China on the principle of unification by force then you will have the 'Yellow Peril.' Wu Pei-fu would militarize China. England and America are helping him. He opposes a round table conference. I could have unified China."

"Unless we can industrialize China, develop our industries, we cannot succeed. China is largely an agricultural country, and she has a surplus population, which brings problems of banditry."

"Your State Department follows Downing Street, England, before the revolution began, was sympathetic to my work. In India they have a motto: 'What Sun Yat Sen can do, the Indian can do.' The Indian people want to do the same thing. Their watchword was discovered by English secret agents and they turned against me. They want to suppress the revolutionary movement in China. India is the keystone of the British imperial system, but we predict no empire can remain forever."

Asked if he would visit America Dr. Sun replied:

"I could not land there. I am only a Coolie, a laborer."

Mine Houses Vacant

YORKVILLE, O.—In spite of the housing shortage in many cities, hundreds of houses in the Kanawha mining district of West Virginia are vacant. A. R. Watkins, international executive board member of the miners' union, said here following a tour of the strike zone, Watkins said he had traveled through numerous villages, some with perhaps a hundred houses, in which not more than two families would be living. The homes belonged to the coal companies, the miners moving out when the strike got under way last April. Watkins said approximately 800 members of the union in the Kanawha field are defendants in eviction actions.

SCHOOL PUPILS' EYESIGHT NOT HURT, IS CLAIM

Expert Hits Stories About Impaired Vision.

SHOWS MOTIVE

Sale of Eyeglasses Reason, he Tells Detroit Meeting.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 21.—"Exaggerated statements concerning the amount of defective vision among school children are being made continually, with the more or less concealed motive of alarming people into

"This little star will twinkle Monday."

This little lady is Gladys Briggs and she is said "to be one of the most accomplished dancers of her age today." East Liverpool people will have an opportunity to see her perform as a member of the cast of artists with the Billy Allen Musical Company which opens a week's engagement at the Ceramic Theatre beginning Monday matinee, Nov. 3.

In connection with the Billy Allen Musical Company "Tiger Love" a big Paramount special feature photoplay will be shown, thus giving the theatre goers of East Liverpool a big double show.

obtaining spectacles," declared Lewis H. Carris, Managing Director of the National Committee for the Prevention of Blindness, in an address before the Annual meeting of the American Public Health association here.

"Any impression that the nation is rapidly going blind, or that over half of our school children need to wear glasses, is so obvious an exaggeration," declared Mr. Carris, "that the true condition of affairs is lost sight of—namely, that approximately one-eighth of the children in our schools are suffering from eye diseases or visual defects, many of which may be removed by properly fitted glasses or by medical attention."

Mr. Carris pointed out that, although estimates have placed the extent of defective vision among school children as high as 60 per cent, a nation-wide investigation which has been conducted by his committee during the last year indicates that for the country at large an average of only 12.1 per cent of school children have defective vision.

"There can be little question," Mr. Carris said, "that the eyes of most children reported as having normal vision may have some slight degree of ocular defect; but physical vigor and general health tone enable the child to have standard vision, in spite of eye imperfections. Until there is some more uniform procedure throughout the country in giving examinations this percentage must be accepted as a fair indication of the size of the problem which defective vision presents to school authorities."

"The percentage of defective vision in rural districts is higher than that of city districts. The figures from Pennsylvania are representative. In rural districts 16.8 per cent of children were found to have defective vision. In cities of 10,000 to 30,000 the percentage was 12.3 per cent. In cities of 10,000 to 30,000 the percentage was 12.3 per cent. In cities over 30,000 the percentage was 8.5 per cent."

"The probable explanation of this difference is that the followup and corrective measures in the cities are superior to those in the rural districts. The difference can also be accounted for by the inferior lighting of rural schools and rural homes, as compared with urban schools and homes."

Speaking on "The Responsibilities of Boards of Health and Boards of Education in Detecting and Correcting Vision Defects of School Children," Mr. Carris pointed out: the importance of determining to what extent defects in vision and diseased eyes

UNBEATEN LIST TO BE REDUCED

Army-Yale, Penn-Lafayette Headline Card in East.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Chances were good today that the eastern football horizon would be somewhat cleared by sundown tomorrow afternoon. Nine football teams remain undefeated but with some of the teams meeting some of the others, it was considered logical to expect the nine to be reduced to a somewhat lower number.

In the west the situation also was worthy of note.

In the east the foremost battles were those scheduled at New Haven between Army and Yale, the latter undefeated this year; and at Philadelphia between Pennsylvania and Lafayette, both on the unbeaten list.

Princeton, Harvard and Dartmouth had what were considered comparatively easy contests before them. Cornell, beaten twice, was in the spotlight because it was carded with Columbia.

Princeton meets Swarthmore at Princeton; Harvard takes Boston University at Cambridge and Dartmouth meets Brown at Hanover.

Lafayette is favored to win from Pennsylvania. Concentration of interest probably will be in Philadelphia, although Army and Yale will not be neglected.

Among other eastern games of interest are Boston college vs. Haskell Institute at Boston and the Navy-Penn State tussle at Annapolis.

The Illinois-Iowa scramble carded for Urbana is a Big Ten contest of such tremendous interest that it practically overshadows all else in that section.

Among other contests worthy of note in the western section are California vs. Southern California at Berkeley; Chicago vs. Purdue at Chicago; Marquette vs. Creighton at Milwaukee; Minnesota vs. Michigan at Minneapolis; Northwestern vs. Indiana at Evanston; Notre Dame vs. Georgia Tech at South Bend; and Ohio State vs. Wooster at Columbus.

The Georgia-Tennessee contest at Athens, the Alabama-Mississippi struggle at Montgomery and the Auburn-Vanderbilt game at Nashville offer the south a wide field to choose from.

HOMING CLUB ENDS SEASON

P. Ruddy, West Point, Wins Greenfield Race.

P. Ruddy of West Point gathered in more laurels when his entry in the city's homing club race this week from Greenfield, Ind., a 300-mile event, outdistanced a classy field. The race was held off in fast time. The birds were liberated at 4:15 a. m., and the first arrival was clocked at 1:54 p. m.

The victory of his blue cheque hen was the second for Ruddy. Second place honors were captured by I. Woods, of the East End, who also won the average speed medal for young birds. H. Brooks is the winner of the gold medal for the old bird series.

This event concludes the club's racing program for 1924, one of the organization's most successful years. For efficiency and equipment the East Liverpool club has won ranking as one of the best in the Tri-State district. The club is planning to organize con-course races for next year for the championship of the Ohio valley. All the leading clubs of the Pittsburgh district will be invited to compete.

Greenfield race results:

COLGATE WILL PAY W. V. U. VISIT

First Major Eleven to Play on Spears' Gridiron.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 31.—Hundreds of West Virginia football fans will see a major eastern collegiate eleven in action for the first time on Saturday, Nov. 8, when they come here to watch the Colgate University team play the Mountaineers in the new stadium.

West Virginia football teams have met practically all important eastern eleven, but the games were played on the home fields of enemy teams. Bucknell, Lehigh, Rutgers and a few others have visited Morgantown, but Colgate usually ranks above them on the mythical football ladder and is a major aggregation in every respect.

University officials promised more attractive home games when the stadium drive was started. The new football plant is still unfinished but the athletic department has gone ahead with its original plans and the Maroon eleven of Colgate is the first of leading eastern teams to be brought to West Virginia.

It is no easy matter to persuade Syracuse, Dartmouth, Penn State, Cornell and other universities to visit this section of the country. Several, however, are anxious to open relations with West Virginia and if Colgate is well received the new stadium will pave the way to future similar attractions.

Until this year Washington and Jefferson and Pitt were regarded as the best eleven West Virginia has ever entertained at home, but after Nov. 8 followers of the Mountaineers will have even more respect for Colgate.

Vehicle Firms Active

COLUMBUS, O.—With twenty-three iron and steel industries paying $18,215,052 in wages to their workers during 1923, the automobile and truck industries ranked second in importance in Lorain county, State Industrial Relations Director Witter announced.

Five vehicle firms had an aggregate payroll of $3,205,012. The construction trades, third on the list, numbered 93 in the county and their wage disbursement amounted to $1,346,152. The average wage among men employed in the various industries was $25 to $33 a week, while women received $12 to $15.

HISSEON GIVEN $250 VERDICT

Action Resulting From Auto Accident in Pottery City.

A verdict for $250 has been awarded by a jury in the $1,000 automobile damage case filed by Roy T. Hiss against Benjamin L. Wise. The plaintiff in this action was represented by J. H. Brooks, while Attorney George E. Davidson was counsel for the defendant. The cause went to trial before Judge Charles Turnbaugh.

As soon as this case was ended, that of Maria J. Tice against Roy Jackson was called for trial. A jury in this action was waived by the attorneys, and the cause was to be heard by Judge Turnbaugh.

"I guess I'd better give the premises," the court suggested, and then he left for Harker alley in East End, East Liverpool, with a company of friends.

In this cause $1,000 damages is sought by the plaintiff against the defendant, and also a restraining order enjoining the defendant from causing sewage to flow onto the property of the plaintiff. Attorney J. H. Brooks represents the defendant, while Attorney Charles Boyd is counsel for the plaintiff.

PADLOCK CASE IS FILED HERE

Prohibition Statute May be Invoked Against Salemites.

The first application to "padlock" a place of business in Columbiana under the existing prohibition laws of the state has been filed in common pleas court by City Solicitor L. B. Harris of Salem, and Prosecuting Attorney J. C. Hanley and Attorney J. L. Hilton of Canton are designated as friendly counsel.

The application for the injunction names the State of Ohio as plaintiff in relation of Mr. Harris, and the defendants are Alexander Fratilla, and Mrs. Mary Fratilla, both of 255 Broadway, Salem and Wilbur Schultz, of 329 Depot street, Salem.

The premises at 255 Broadway have been designated in the petition as one where a common nuisance exists, and that it has been used as a soft drink establishment since January 1 last, but that it has also been a place where intoxicating liquors have been sold and kept in violation of the laws of Ohio.

The petition recites that Alexander Fratilla and Mrs. Mary Fratilla, have through themselves, their agents and employees since January 1, last, sold, bartered, possessed and kept intoxicating liquors, at or about the premises.

It is also pointed out in the petition that on or about Aug. 21, 1924, Alexander Fratilla sold intoxicating liquors to two regular state prohibition inspectors, known as Jack Metzger and Jack Colter and to divers other persons on the same date.

Wilbur Schultz is also charged in the petition with selling the same prohibition agents liquor at the Fratilla place on September 23, 1924, and that the wife of Fratilla did assist in the selling of intoxicating liquors, to the same prohibition agents on Aug. 21 and Sept. 23.

It is also pointed out that Fratilla was convicted Dec. 3, 1923 for violating the liquor laws and a certified copy of the transcript in this case is made a part of the petition as an exhibit.

Buckeye Motor Co. Cuts Hudson and Essex Coach Prices

Substantial price reductions on Hudson and Essex coaches were announced today by The Buckeye Motor Co., following the receipt of a special message from the Hudson Motor Car Co.

The reduction results in the Hudson coach, a closed car, now selling at less than the standard open cars on the same chassis. This is the first time in motor car history when this has been true, it is declared. The Hudson coach's new list price is $1,395 as against $1,400 for the 4-passenger open Super-Six car and $1,500 for the 7-passenger open car.

The Essex coach at $945 is still slightly higher than the Essex open car, but the differential is declared by Hudson-Essex officials to be the smallest in the industry aside from Hudson.

This move by the Hudson Car Co.—unexpected, because the last few weeks has seen a substantial number of motor car price increases—is taken to mean that Hudson-Essex now regards open cars as luxuries and proposes to give the advantage of volume production to the enclosed cars which make up at least 90 per cent. of its production. Open car and sedan prices are unchanged.

The reduction was made possible, according to Hudson officials, because 1924 has been the largest sales year in Hudson history, the hitherto unknown 100,000 mark having been reached about Sept. 1. Volume economies have thus been possible.

STORING VITAMINS

The average healthy person stores up within the body several days' supply of essential vitamins. This explains why a well-nourished person of any age is less susceptible to germ-infection than those who are mal-nourished.

Scott's Emulsion

is a safety-factor that helps keep you well-nourished. A very little used daily to complement the regular diet, activates with essential vitamins and helps build resistance.

Store up a reserve of essential vitamins—take Scott's regularly.

EAST END

MIDLAND-BEAVER ROAD CONCRETED

Pouring of concrete on the road between Midland and Beaver was completed Thursday. With the exception of the two overgrade crossings of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh railroad company tracks at Vanport and Barkley's crossing the highway is improved.

However, it is stated, that both crossings are in good condition and delay until next spring will not be contested.

POTTERY TEAMS IN Y. M. LEAGUE

Will J. Scott, secretary of the league, will shortly call a meeting of managers and officials, when plans will be formulated for the campaign. Following the custom of other years it is probable that the playing season will be divided, the first half to close around the Christmas holidays and the second resuming after New Year's.

BILLY ALLEN MUSICAL COMEDIES AND PHOTOPLAYS AT THE CERAMIC

Big Double Show Policy at Forth Street Theatre
Next Week, With Three Offerings Daily.

Interest theatrically will center next week on the opening of the Billy Allen Musical Comedy company at the Ceramic theatre, with a Monday matinee in the scenically pretentious musical comedy, "Broadway Vanities." This is the first time that the Ceramic theatre has announced a musical comedy policy and the event is awaited with unusual interest.

Billy Allen is one of the most popular musical comedy comedians of the present day. He will have the able assistance of a very notable cast of funmakers, including Tom DePew, Charles Hendricks, J. Warren Lawler, Jean Lowry, Edna Troutman, Wayne McVeigh, Gladys Briggs, Rae Keith, Arthur Wanner, Baby Mae DePew and a chorus of 16 good looking girls.

Jean Lowry, late of Charles Dillingham's "One Kiss Company," has been on the stage just five years and who has achieved phenomenal success on the musical comedy stage, is one of the featured stars of the production.

A romance laden atmosphere of Broadway will form the settings for some of the scenes, "The Butterfly Scene," "The Living Portraits," "The Rain Scene" and many others are said to be beautiful. The chorus is very captivating.

East Liverpool and its environs are offered a great big double show at the Ceramic theatre with a complete new show and photoplay on Wednesday and Friday. The new policy of three shows a day, namely—2:30, 7 and 9 o'clock—goes into effect, starting Monday matinee, thus giving the Ceramic theatre, for the first time in its history, three performances of musical comedy a day.

Constance Talmadge In New Comedy Role In "Goldfish" Picture

Constance Talmadge's admirers will whoop with joy when they see her in "The Goldfish," a First National picture which will be shown at the American theatre on next Monday.

Constance has definitely deserted the field of costume drama and has resumed her activities as a comedienne. And her come-back is made in a comedy which is a side-splitter.

In "The Goldfish," which was directed by Jerome Storm, Constance has three husbands, roles played by Jack Mulhall, Jean Hersholt and William Conklin. Two of the husbands are divorced, that is to say they are handed the fatal bowl of goldfish which gives them their congees, and the third husband conveniently dies.

Just as Constance is about to marry her fourth husband, the Duke of Middlesex, a series of events occur which throw her back into the arms of her first husband and all ends happily.

"The Goldfish" was adapted by C. Gardner Sullivan from Gladys Unger's stage play in which Marjorie Rambeau was featured.

Jack Mulhall is Constance's leading man. Others having prominent roles in the cast are Jean Hersholt, Za Su Pitts, Edward Connelly, William Conklin, Nellie Bly Baker, Leo White and Frank Elliott.

Damages Awarded.

MARTINS FERRY—Judgment of $1.50 in favor of John Bovah was recorded in Justice of the Peace Otto's court here today. Bovah sued Frank Walters for $20 which he alleged was due because of damage Walters' cow did when it got into Bovah's corn field. By quizzing witnesses the justice determined that approximately one bushel of corn, worth $1.50 was damaged, and he gave judgment accordingly.

Judith of Blue Lake Ranch

By JACKSON GREGORY.

They had traveled deeper and deeper into the fastnesses of the mountains, mounting higher and higher until now, in a nest of crags and cliffs, on a flank of Devil's mountain, they could look far to the westward and catch brief glimpses of the river from Blue lake slipping out of the shadows. They had gone a way which Lee knew intimately, traveling a trail which brought them again and again under broken cliffs, where they must use hands and feet manfully, and now and then make service of a loop of rope cast up over an outjutting crag.

"They'll never follow us here, Tommy," he said confidently. "If they do, you've got the drop on them and you've got a rifle. You know what to do, Tommy, old man."

"I know, Bud," said Tommy, his eyes shining. For never before had Bud Lee called him that—"old man."

Long ago the gag had been removed from Hampton's mouth. Long ago, consequently, Hampton had said his say, had made his promises. When he got out of this—glory to be! wouldn't he square the deal, though? Did Lee know what kidnapping was? That there were such things as laws, such places as prisons?

"Here," said Lee not unkindly, "I'll loosen the rope about your wrists. That's all the chances we're going to take with you. Come, be a sport, my boy. You're the right sort inside; just as soon as this fracas is over, when you know that we were right and that all this is a put-up job on you, your friend Trevors playing you for a sucker and getting Miss Sanford out of the way, you'll say we were right and I know it."

"That so?" snapped Hampton. "You just start now and keep going, Bud Lee, if you don't want to do time in the jug."

Tommy Burkitt, staring back across the broken miles of mountain, canyon and forest, his eyes frowning, was muttering:

"Look at that, Bud. What do you make of it?" For a little Lee did not answer. He and Tommy and Hampton, standing among the rocks, turned their eyes together toward the hills rimming in the northern side of Blue Lake ranch.

"I make out," said Lee slowly, "that Trevors means business and that Carson has got his work cut out for him this morning, Tommy."

For the thing which had caught the boy's eyes was a blaze on the ridge, its flames leaping and licking at the thinning darkness, its smoke a black smudge on the horizon, staining the glow of the dawn. And farther along the same ridge was a second blaze, smaller with distance, but growing as it licked at the dry brush. Still farther a third.

"If that fire ever gets a good start," muttered Lee heavily, "it's going to sweep the ranch. God going to fire fire with one hand and hold his stock with the other, I don't know."

But even then he turned his eyes away from the ranch, sweeping the ragged jumble of mountains about him. Judith was gone, Judith needed him and he did not dare try to estimate the soreness of her need. What did it matter that Carson and Tripp and the rest had their problems to face back there? There was only one thing in all of the wide world that mattered. And he did not even know where she was, north, south, east or west! Somewhere in these mountains, no doubt. But where, when a man might ride a hundred miles this way or that and have no sign if he passed within calling distance of her?

In his heart Bud Lee prayed, as he had prayed last night, asking God that he might come to Judith. And it seemed to him, standing close to God on the rocky heights, that his prayer had been heard and answered. For, far off to the east, still farther in the solitude of the mountains, rising from a rugged peak, a thin line of smoke rose into the palling sky.

It might be that Judith was there. It might be that she was scores of miles from the beckoning smoke. But Lee had asked a sign and there, like a slender finger pointing to the brightening sky, was a sign.

He stooped swiftly for rifle and rope and packet of bacon.

"Where you goin', Bud?" asked Tommy.

"To Judith," answered Bud Lee gently.

For in his heart was that faith which is born of love.

CHAPTER XIV

The Tools Which Trevors Used.

To Judith life had changed from a pleasant game in the sunshine to a hideous nightmare. In a few dragging hours she had come to know incredulity, anxiety, misery, dejection, black hopelessness, and icy terror. She had come to look through a man's eyes at that which lay in his heart, to feel for the first time in her fearless life that the fortitude was slipping out of her bosom, that the strength was melting in her.

She lay on a rude bed of fir-boughs, an utter, impenetrable blackness like a palpable weight on her eyeballs. When it was silent about her, and for the most part silence reigned with the oppressive gloom, she yearned so for a little sound that she moved her foot along the rock floor under her or snapped a dry twig between her fingers or even listened eagerly for the coming of the terrible woman who was her jailer.

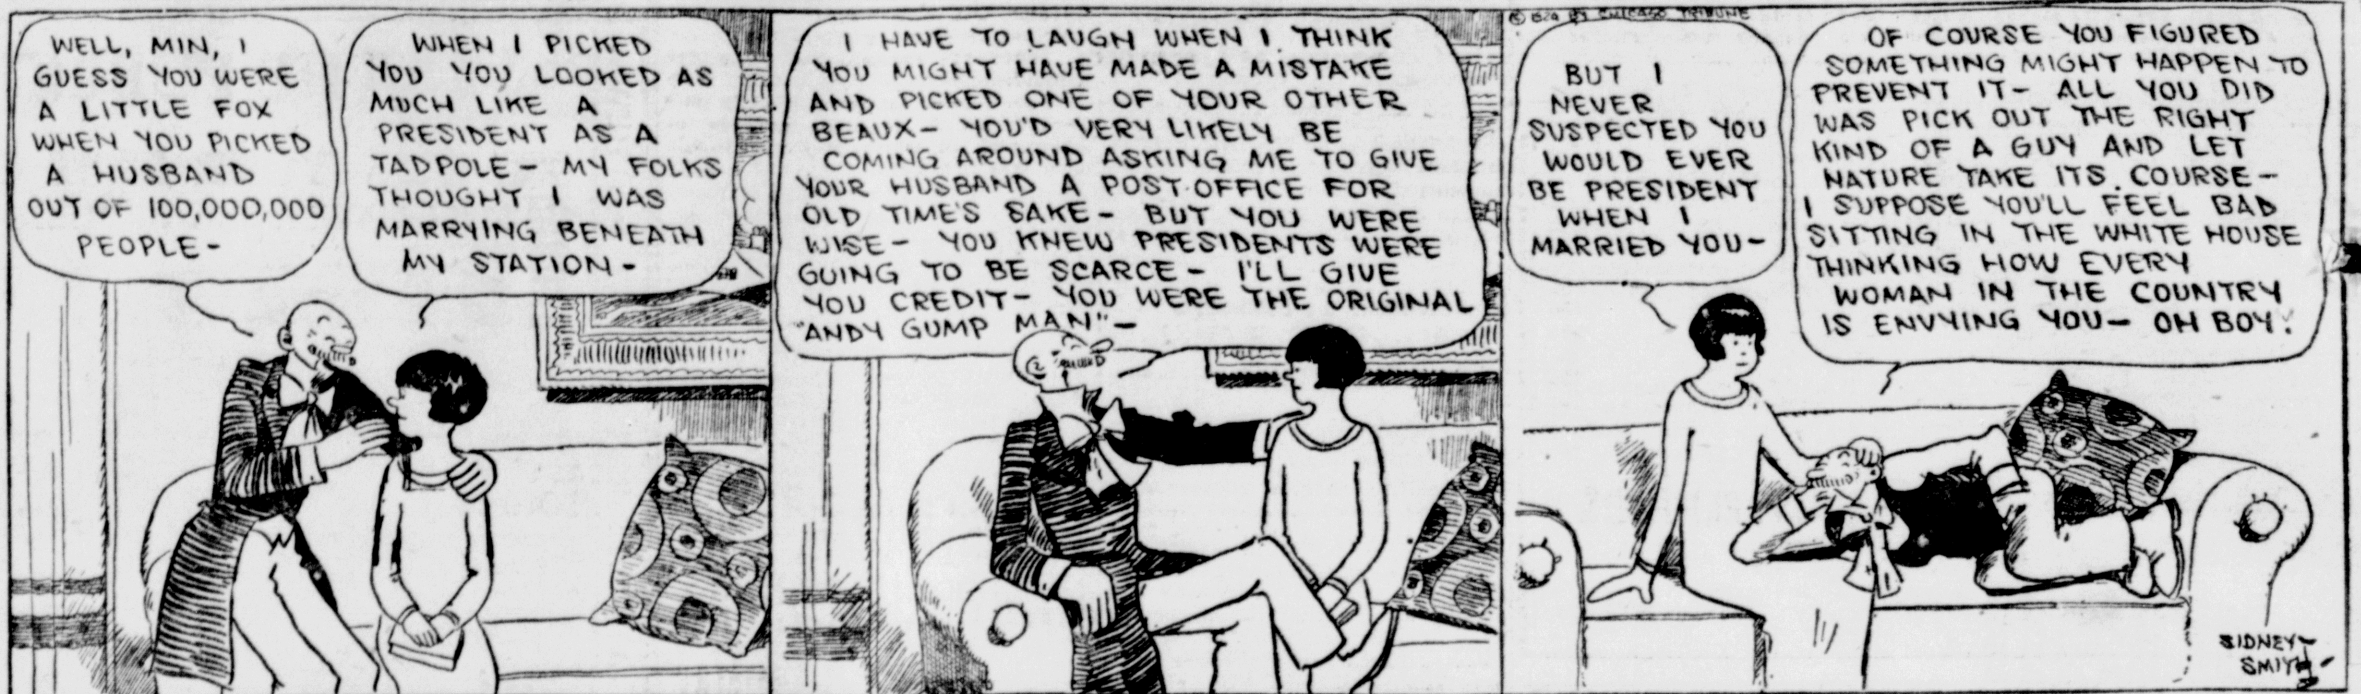

Groping, again and again she went over in her thoughts the long journey here, seeking fruitlessly to know whether she had come north, south, or east from the ranch house. It was one of these three directions, for there were no such mountains as these to the west, no such monster cliffs, no deep cavern reaching into the bowels of the earth. The sense that, even were she freed, she had no slightest idea where she was, which way she must go, stunned her.

"Will I go mad after a while?" she wondered miserably. "Am I already going mad? Oh, God, have mercy on me—"

"Feet of Clay," Big Photoplay Feature, Scores at Ceramic

In his latest Paramount screen offering Cecil B. DeMille of the alluring flavored cinema concoctions has reached in all directions to make "Feet of Clay," at the Ceramic theatre Friday and Saturday strictly 1924. The heroine, played by the new "find," Vera Reynolds, is the new type to whom the public interest has turned, the flapper, grown from parties and petting at seventeen to marriage and responsibilities at twenty-one.

Of course, there is a wonderful DeMille party, a dance floor laid over a pool with interesting connecting bridges. All of this is preceded by a colorful beach sequence, utilizing a myriad striking novelties, and featuring an exciting race between twenty girls on surf boards behind fast speed-boats. Mix in a struggling couple in a Harlem flat, a mid-ocean fight between a swimmer and a shark, and it may readily be seen that DeMille is back again in all his old form. Timeliness and novelty, according to a careful census of the past ten years, seem to be the two most infallible ingredients of a photoplay that will please the theatre-going public. "Feet of Clay" is timely and has novelty to spare. Draw your own conclusions! Featured in the principal roles of "Feet of Clay" are, besides Miss Reynolds, Rod La Rocque, Victor Varconi, Ricardo Cortez, Julia Faye, Theodore Kosloff and Robert Edison. The story is an adaptation of Margareta

Pharmacists call it "Joint Ease" because it's for Swollen, Sore Painful, Creaky Joints Only.

It took a good many years to get together a combination of pain subduing and swelling reducing agents declared to be the one remedy that almost instantly penetrates through skin and flesh and starts right in to make swollen, inflamed, creaky, pain racked joints as good as new. They call this new and wonderful preparation "Joint-Ease" because the medical man who turned the trick, worked for years to perfect some low-priced remedy that would really benefit the millions of people who have one or more joints that need helpful attention. So "Joint-Ease" is prepared only for people who have a swollen, painful, creaky, distorted or stiff joint, whether it be in knee, elbow, shoulder, ankle, neck or finger and whether it is caused by rheumatism or some thing else. Of course, it can't help but quickly put an end to such superficial ailments as lumbago, neuralgia, neuritis, aching muscles, stitch in the side, crick in the neck or sore feet because of its penetrating action, but what it is really recommended for is joint ailments of any nature whatever. Ask for a tube of "Joint-Ease." You can use it several times in one evening for quick results, because it goes right through the skin with only a few seconds rubbing. It surely is a swift penetrator and when it gets under the skin, it starts right in to clean up all joint trouble. Jesse D. Holloway dispenses it daily for about 60 cents a tube, as do first class druggists everywhere. Always remember, when Joint-Ease gets in joint agony gets out—quick.

Every rheumatic sufferer ought to send today for free book, "The Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism" (just out). Address H. P. Clearwater, box 800, Hallowell, Maine.

Tuttle's immensely popular magazine serial of the same name. Beulah Marie Dix and Bertram Millhauser wrote the screen play. With the exception of "The Ten Commandments," "Feet of Clay" is by far DeMille's best production to date—and one of the finest pictures for all-round entertainment and thrills we have ever seen.

To Widen Streets MIDDLEPORT, O.—Plans are being made in both Middleport and Pomeroy to care for an unusual volume of traffic in the coming years, and it will probably be necessary to widen streets at several points. Roads leading from Cincinnati, Athens, Charleston and other centers are being completed in the Pomeroy bend, with traffic this fall doubled.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ. Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

Big Musical Revue Comes to Strand Theatre Next Week

An innovation which marks the Guy Rarick Musical Revue, coming to the Strand next week, as it has those distinctive qualities which set it apart as being above the average. The chorus is exceedingly pretty and is the talk of every city visited. The company is headed by the well known musical comedy star, Guy Rarick, who has been featured in some of the biggest Broadway successes. This company carries a 70-foot car of scenery. The chorus is gowned correctly and in good taste as the costumes were designed by Lester, who is well known to musical comedy patrons. Among the principals who support Guy Rarick, are Dick Tandler, Miss Jane Stone, formerly of the Winter Garden; Miss Eleanor Klemmer, a prima donna, a late feature with The Aborns Opera Company; Walter McDowell, Joseph Rarick and Ida Winslow.

The sensational dancers, Smith and Warren, late of the Artists and Models Company, and the justly famous Rarick Models are others in the company. Saving Accounts now being opened. Dividends start as of Nov. 1. 5 1/2 % paid the past two years. The Pottery Savings & Loan company, Washington and Broadway. New York has a lock and key store that is two feet wide.

PLAN TO CLOSE RIVER HIGHWAY

The new river road from Weirton to New Cumberland which was opened to traffic early this week, will be closed again next week in order to give the contractors an opportunity to cover it with ashes and granulated slag. When this work is completed, the highway will be opened for the winter. There remains a short stretch before the highway is fully improved, but work on this section will be deferred until next spring.

BETTER ROADS BOOST REVENUES

West Virginia's rapidly maturing system of improved highways is bringing anticipated increases in state revenues, according to H. Sol White, representative of the state road commission. The number of autos operated in this state will reach a total of 200,000 by the end of the year, White predicts. Revenues from registration and gasoline tax amount to approximately half billion dollars annually. There are 200 applications daily for license transfers at the state road commission offices in Charleston, for a total of $6,000. White said he expected that close to 300,000 auto owners would seek licenses next year.

Southampton Docks To Cost $50,000,000; Will Take Five Years

SOUTHAMPTON, England.—Following the recent action of the Cunard Steamship Line in landing passengers from New York at Plymouth instead of here, the Southern Railway company has announced plans to extend the Southampton docks, at a cost of $50,000,000.

The work will not be completed for five years, but at the end of that time the Southampton docks will be able to accommodate four liners the size of the Leviathan at the same time.

TIMELY VIEWS ON WORLD TOPICS

Although the world powers want to stop the revolution in China, the Chinese people believe it will succeed and that China will be united and will be a happy nation. Dr. Sun Yat Sen, President of the South China Government, declared in a recent interview with Dr. Gertrude R. Brigham, Professor of English at Canton Christian College. A summary of this interview was made public recently by the Rev. Dr. James McClure Henry, President of the college, who is spending some weeks at the American headquarters in New York.

"The Governments in Europe and America won't let the revolution in China take its own course," went on Dr. Sen, "but want always to stop it, counteract it. You American people carried out your own revolution successfully and established the United States in North America, and you get peace."

"We want to follow your example. We want the revolution in China to change all the old system, and build it anew. But the so-called civilized powers always favor a counter revolution. They want to stop the revolution in China."

Revolution Natural Force.

"Revolution is a natural force and resembles a stone rolling from a mountain top. It cannot be stopped half way. One must let it roll from the top to the bottom before it can be stopped. The revolution in China is the same thing. Although powers all over the world want to stop this revolution we Chinese people believe in spite of these great powers, in spite of England, in spite of imperialism—we believe that finally the revolution will succeed, and then China will be united and will be a peaceful nation.

"Tell your people not to let your Government carry out any more measures in support of the counter-revolution. After all, we are only following your example, which your forefathers did before us."

Russia, Once Enemy, Now Friend

Dr. Sun made no secret of the fact that he looks upon Russia as a friend. "Formerly looked upon as an enemy of China under the old imperialistic regime, Russia is today a friend," he said. "You see that friendship expressing itself in Chinese and Russian agreement, abolishing extra privileges for foreigners, who in China are outside our laws. Russia has done what America has partly done, remitted her share of the Boxer indemnity. With over 1,000 miles of territory bordering, we are bound up on the same terms with her, terms of friendship or enmity. We can see well that we should be friends. That is a cardinal point of China's foreign policy now. Russia is the only country which has responded, all others having persecuted us.

"Russia, whatever may be said of her now or may have been said of her today, is a great power. This cry of Communism shall not deter us from being friends with Russia."

Says America Follows England

"If Wu Peifu is permitted to subjugate China on the principle of unification by force then you will have the 'Yellow Peril.' Wu Peifu would militarize China, England and America are helping him. He opposes a round table conference. I could have unified China."

"Unless we can industrialize China, develop our industries, we cannot succeed. China is largely an agricultural country, and she has a surplus population, which brings problems of banditry."

"Your State Department follows Downing Street, England, before the revolution began, was sympathetic to my work. In India they have a motto: 'What Sun Yat Sen can do, the Indian can do.' The Indian people want to do the same thing. Their watchword was discovered by English secret agents and they turned against me. They want to suppress the revolutionary movement in China. India is the keystone of the British imperial system, but we predict no empire can remain forever."

Asked if he would visit America Dr. Sun replied:

"I could not land there. I am only a Coolie, a laborer."

Mine Houses Vacant

YORKVILLE, O.—In spite of the housing shortage in many cities, hundreds of houses in the Kanawha mining district of West Virginia are vacant. A. R. Watkins, international executive board member of the miners' union, said here following a tour of the strike zone, Watkins said he had traveled through numerous villages, some with perhaps a hundred houses, in which not more than two families would be living. The homes belonged to the coal companies, the miners moving out when the strike got under way last April. Watkins said approximately 800 members of the union in the Kanawha field are defendants in eviction actions.

Hawkeyes May Have Defense For Grange

Coach Burt Ingwersen, Illinois Grid Product, Next to Zuppke, is Most Familiar With Great Runner's Tactics.

By Davis J. Walsh.

URBANA, Ill., Oct. 31.—If any team is to halt the rambling and ambling career of Harold "Red" Grange, perhaps the greatest ball runner in the history of modern football, that team is the University of Iowa, coached by Burt Ingwersen, product of Illinois football and familiar with Grange's characteristics as the veteran circus man is familiar with the smell of tanbark.

This statement is not the writer's own. It was made to him today on the eve of the Illinois-Iowa game by Bob Zuppke, Illinois coach. He based his opinion on several existing conditions to wit: That Grange is by no means a well man, although Zuppke may be open to suspicion of being the middlewestern Gil Doble.

That Ingwersen, former Illinois tackle, coached here under Zuppke for eight seasons, prior to going to Iowa this fall and not only knows Grange's style but Zuppke's system as well.

That Melwain, official pathfinder for Grange, has a broken bone in his wrist and although ready to start the game, may lack some of his pristine ability or whatever he has.

That Iowa's veteran team with a line averaging over 195 pounds and the best ends of the conference in Otto and Romey, is just about sufficiently fool proof, defensively, to embarrass even a miracleman.

As for Grange himself, he says nothing and does so about as often as convention permits. To see him about the campus is to see a young man of unimpressive mien, with a cap pulled far over his eyes and a desire to avoid all talk of football, particularly any topic thereof that deals with his own participation in the game.

They tell the story here of Grange taking one of the co-eds to the movies several nights ago and upon escorting the young lady to her home, declining an invitation to enter its friendly portal.

"Your father and mother are in there and they'll start talking football" was his excuse. He seems utterly without ego of any kind. Further, more his hair is not red and he runs high on his toes, contrary to general football theory for ball running.

Grange will be given the chlorine treatment today for a heavy cold. Zuppke is making the most of it. He didn't exactly wring his hands in pitiful grief but he did manage to muster a sour countenance over the situation.

"When we stepped out last Monday we thought we would be in great shape after the regulars were rested over the Depauw game," said Zuppke. "Instead, Grange turned up with a cold and Melwain fell and broke a bone in his wrist, Leonard, a substitute back is lame from bad arches. Yes, indeed, we are in a bad way."

Some of Zuppke's talk is not the old malarky either. It was Iowa that gave Grange the greatest trouble last year and the Hawkeyes have charged little, if any, between seasons. Fleckenstein, veteran guard, has been hurt but McIntyre, varsity man of two seasons, is expected to be an acceptable substitute.

Then also, Ingwersen is playing Zuppke football at Iowa and there is little the Illini can pull that will be new to him or his team.

"I went up to see Iowa play Minnesota and could hardly convince myself that I wasn't watching my own team," the Illini coach said. Ingwersen is using the plays it used when he was here under me last year. When the teams meet on Saturday, only the color of the jerseys will tip the scales to the favorite of the fans."

Zuppke also had a few kind words for Leland Parkins, the Hawkeye quarter, who is expected to rival Grange in carrying the ball. Parkins is the same young man who ran amuck against Yale two years ago.

All-in-all it should be quite a football game and it will probably decide the final disposition of the big ten championship. If Iowa can stop Grange again, it will have won half the battle for, although Zuppke has been known to become sorely affronted by the more or less ill-founded charge that Illinois is a one man team, there is no doubt that the soul of its attack is located in the young man who hustles ice in the summer time for pleasure or something and whose father is alleged to have been a lumberjack of the old school.

JORDAN GATHERS MORE MAT GLORY

CLEVELAND, Oct. 31.—Chris Jordan, claimant of the world's middleweight wrestling championship, won in two straight falls from Ray Carpenter of Lancaster, O., here last night. The first was won in 25 minutes and the second when Carpenter was knocked from the ring and was unable to continue.

The Australian air mail service is being extended to cover a mileage of 4,200 miles a week.

Michigan Stages Strong Comeback; Ohio Looms Up

Humiliated by the crushing defeat administered by Grange and Illinois, Michigan took out its spite on Wisconsin to the tune of 21 to 0. Rockwell, half, is seen getting started on a 47-yard run after receiving a 65-yard punt. Inset is Friedman, Cleveland, O., boy, who established himself as a new Michigan star by his stellar backfield work in the game, his first in college. Other photo shows Klee, Ohio State, kicking field goal.

Mountaineers Believe They Can Stop Neel

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 31.—In the Bethany-West Virginia dual track and field meet last spring a young Bison athlete finished a close second in the 100 and 220 dashes, and a third in the 440 dash. He is Dan D'Aiuto, to equal the state record of 10 seconds for the 100 and to turn in time of 23 1/5 for the 220.

Saturday afternoon when the Bethany eleven meets West Virginia in the new Stadium here the talented sprinter, Neel, will play left halfback for the Bisons. He has been in the lineup regularly and is easily the fastest back in the tri-state section this year. He is Bethany's leading threat and the young man that came very near defeating W. & J. single-handed.

When Bethany takes the field here Saturday, it will have Reark, LaPorte or Gehring at ends; Captain Shoemaker and Mackey at tackles; Barr and MacWherter at guards; Towns at center; Loppacker at quarterback; Neel and Barlow or Carey at the halfbacks; and Hanna at fullback. The Bison team is not going to be outwatched because changes in the West Virginia lineup this week makes the Mountaineers eleven even lighter than it was in earlier games. Bethany like West Virginia has been out-weighted most of the time this year and when pitted against a team of its own poundage may play better football.

ATHENS, O.—Ohio University students, or at least 1,102 of them, seem to have a preference for President Coolidge in the November election. In a straw vote conducted at the University, more than half of all votes cast were for the president.

ANDERSON-GARCIA ON HINKLE'S CARD

CLEVELAND, Oct. 31.—Eddie Anderson of Wyoming and Bobby Garcia of Baltimore, the latter touted as a possible successor to Johnny Dundee as featherweight champion, will be the stars on M. J. Hinkel's boxing card at the next public auditorium show Nov. 14, it was announced today. They will go 12 rounds to a decision. Other notable carded bouts: Benny Grosse and Ernie Goosemen, eight rounds; Al Corbett, Cleveland, and Frankie Edwards, New York, eight rounds; Frankie Stellmack, Cleveland, and Tod Smith, Canton, eight rounds.

COLUMBIA WILL PERMIT CHEERS

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Columbia's football team was due to arrive here today from New York, but without the usual colorful trip, due to the recent death of Coach Percy Haughton. It was officially denied, however, that there would be no cheering at the game scheduled for tomorrow.

Cornell was willing to forego this feature, but Columbia officials decided to permit cheering in its own section and Cornell will do the same.

Local Potters Meet Sebring Sport Squads

Saturday will be East Liverpool-Sebring Potters sport day at Sebring. And the sport carnival which will get under way on Saturday afternoon will be continued until Sunday with the soccer and football players leading the spotlight.

The Homer Laughlin soccer team, an eleven composed of players selected from all plants of the industry, will clash with the Sebring potters' eleven on Saturday afternoon, the game beginning at 3:15 p. m. Laughlin automobiles are scheduled to leave the Diamond at 11:30 a. m.

On Sunday the Homer Laughlin football team will battle with the Sebring griders in the first of a two-game series. Players and fans will depart from the Diamond in automobiles at 11:30 Sunday morning for this engagement.

Forty-three players were in the Columbia squad which will work out today on Cornell's field. No workout was held in New York yesterday out of respect for Haughton's funeral.

UNBEATEN LIST TO BE REDUCED

Army-Yale, Penn-Lafayette Headline Card in East.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Chances were good today that the eastern football horizon would be somewhat cleared by sundown tomorrow afternoon. Nine football teams remain undefeated but with some of the teams meeting some of the others, it was considered logical to expect the nine to be reduced to a somewhat lower number.

In the west the situation also was worthy of note. In the east the foremost battles were those scheduled at New Haven between Army and Yale, the latter undefeated this year; and at Philadelphia between Pennsylvania and Lafayette, both on the unbeaten list.

Princeton, Harvard and Dartmouth had what were considered comparatively easy contests before them. Cornell, beaten twice, was in the spotlight because it was carded with Columbia.

Princeton meets Swarthmore at Princeton; Harvard takes Boston University at Cambridge and Dartmouth meets Brown at Hanover.

Lafayette is favored to win from Pennsylvania. Concentration of interest probably will be in Philadelphia, although Army and Yale will not be neglected.

Among other eastern games of interest are Boston college vs. Haskell Institute at Boston and the Navy-Penn State tussle at Annapolis.

The Illinois-Iowa scramble carded for Urbana is a Big Ten contest of such tremendous interest that it practically over-shadows all else in that section.

Among other contests worthy of note in the western section are California vs. Southern California at Berkeley; Chicago vs. Purdue at Chicago; Marquette vs. Creighton at Milwaukee; Minnesota vs. Michigan at Minneapolis; Northwestern vs. Indiana at Evanston; Notre Dame vs. Georgia Tech at South Bend; and Ohio State vs. Wooster at Columbus.

The Georgia-Tennessee contest at Athens, the Alabama-Mississippi struggle at Montgomery and the Auburn-Vanderbilt game at Nashville offer the south a wide field to choose from.

HOMING CLUB ENDS SEASON

P. Ruddy, West Point, Wins Greenfield Race.

P. Ruddy of West Point gathered in more laurels when his entry in the city's homing club race this week from Greenfield, Ind., a 300-mile event, outdistanced a classy field. The race was held off in fast time. The birds were liberated at 4:15 a. m., and the first arrival was clocked at 1:54 p. m.

The victory of his blue cheque hen was the second for Ruddy. Second place honors were captured by I. Woods, of the East End, who also won the average speed medal, for young birds. H. Brooks is the winner of the gold medal for the old bird series.

This event concludes the club's racing program for 1924, one of the organization's most successful years. For efficiency and equipment the East Liverpool club has won ranking as one of the best in the Tri-State district.

The club is planning to organize a course race for next year for the championship of the Ohio valley. All the leading clubs of the Pittsburgh district will be invited to compete.

COLGATE WILL PAY W. V. U. VISIT

First Major Eleven to Play on Spears' Gridiron.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 31.—Hundreds of West Virginia football fans will see a major eastern collegiate eleven in action for the first time on Saturday, Nov. 8, when they come here to watch the Colgate University team play the Mountaineers in the new stadium.

West Virginia football teams have met practically all important eastern elevens, but the games were played on the home fields of enemy teams. Bucknell, Lehigh, Rutgers and a few others have visited Morgantown, but Colgate usually ranks above them on the mythical football ladder and is a major aggregation in every respect.

University officials promised more attractive home games when the stadium drive was started. The new football plant is still unfinished but the athletic department has gone ahead with its original plans and the Maroon eleven of Colgate is the first of leading eastern teams to be brought to West Virginia.

It is no easy matter to persuade Syracuse, Dartmouth, Penn State, Cornell and other universities to visit this section of the country. Several, however, are anxious to open relations with West Virginia and if Colgate is well received the new stadium will pave the way to future similar attractions.

Until this year Washington and Jefferson and Pitt were regarded as the best elevens West Virginia has ever entertained at home, but after Nov. 8 followers of the Mountaineers will have even more respect for Colgate.

The average wage among men employed in the various industries was $25 to $39 a week, while women received $12 to $15.

Said Can't Be Done

"My experience with doctors and medicines caused me to lose faith in both, and when a friend told me that Mayr's Wonderful Remedy would cure my stomach trouble I told him 'It can't be done.' However, he finally persuaded me to try it and to my surprise it did. All symptoms of acute indigestion and gas having disappeared." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Jesse D. Holloway and druggists everywhere.
